BELGIAN PROPOSES CHANGE IN TEXT OF RESERVATION TO WORLD COURT

Wants Clause Altered So U. S. Must Prove Its Interest Before Objecting to Advisory Opinion.

THINKS AGREEMENT ON POINT NEAR

Venezuelan Urges Value of United States Adherence, Even at Cost of Special Privilege.

By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, Sept. 3.—Representatives of 38 countries holding membership in the World Court resumed discussion today of the fifth and last of the reservations attached to the adherence of the United States to the Court.

President Van Eysinga said the first reading of the reservations should be completed during the day. He added the belief that a committee should be appointed to carry on the work during the sitting of the League of Nations Assembly.

M. Rolin, Belgian jurist, made a brilliant exposition of the juridical difficulties confronting acceptance of the fifth reservation requiring American consent to action by the League Council in seeking advisory opinions from the Court on questions "in which the United States has or claims an interest." He said that he objects to the conference were near a complete understanding with the United States on this point.

Referring to the East Carrelia case, in which the World Court declined to render an opinion because Soviet Russia, as a non-member of the League, objected, M. Rolin thought this precedent would be followed as regards the United States.

Would Change Wording.
He feared, however, that the phrase "in which the United States has or claims an interest," was difficult of acceptance, and he preferred to have it changed to read "claims and has an interest." In other words, he wanted the United States to justify her claim to an interest.

Latin America again rallied to the support of the policy of approving the reservations when Senor Zumeta of Venezuela insisted that the conference should omit no endeavor to make the United States adherence to the Court an accomplished fact.

"Assume, if you must, that acceptance accords the United States some privilege," he said, "but let us not forget the high moral and political significance of the adherence of the most powerful democracy the world has ever seen."

Prince Arfa Ed Dowleh of Persia told the conference that the League of Nations was certain to derive great advantages from facilitating the adherence of the United States, and quoted the Persian proverb: "If a thing is worth while, don't fear to do it."

Conflict With Government.
The Swiss representative favored giving a guarantee to the United States that she would receive equal treatment with members of the League Council, saying he thought this would satisfy America.

"We should go the limit in meeting the American desire," said Dr. Emil Erich, former Premier of Finland, "but it is inconceivable that the veto right is embodied in this reservation is incompatible with Article 14 of the League covenant. Hence, if we grant the United States this privilege, it will be for reasons of practical expediency and not because she is legally entitled to it."

Article 14 of the League covenant authorizes the World Court to give an advisory opinion on any question referred to it by the Council or Assembly.

Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.
CINCINNATI, Sept. 3.—Jesse Haines, one of the pitching heroes of the Pirate series in which the Cardinals forged to the front in the race for the National League pennant, went to the hurling slab this afternoon to face the Cincinnati Reds in the first game of another crucial series here.

Hornsbey and his men faced the necessity of winning one of the three games here in order to stay ahead of Cincinnati and the possibility of increasing their lead and virtually eliminating the Reds from the race if they could make a clean sweep of the series or take two of the three contests.

Today's game was considered the most important since the "Pirate" series and one of the most important remaining on the schedule. Carl Mays was assigned to pitching duty for the Reds and the Cardinals felt that if they could beat him they would take a long stride towards giving St. Louis its first pennant since 1888.

Cincinnati is all worked up over the Reds' pennant chances and while today's attendance did not tax the capacity of the park, every Sunday seat has been sold for Sunday's game.

Manager Jack Hendricks of the Reds said he had received 52 telegrams from friends in St. Louis asking if he could obtain seats for them for Sunday's game. Several railroads will give excursions from St. Louis and a large delegation of Cardinals rooters is expected to attend to cheer Hornsbey's men in the final of the series.

Manager Hornsbey probably will use Bill Shuster against the Reds in the second game of the series tomorrow, with Pete Donohue likely to hurl for the Reds. The probable pitchers for Sunday are Lue for the Reds and Reinhart for the Cardinals, with Allan Sothorn to be saved for one of the L-hor Day games against the Pirates in Pittsburgh.

The standing of the two teams now is: Cardinals—Won 78, lost 54, percentage .591; Cincinnati—Won 74, lost 54, percentage .573. The Pittsburgh Pirates, in third place, are a full game in back of Cincinnati.

Rain this morning undoubtedly hurt the attendance, which was estimated at 15,000.

The game:
FIRST INNING.
CARDINALS.—Douthit singled past Ford, Southworth, trying to bunt, fouled to Drexler. Mays threw out Hornsbey. Critz threw out Bottomley. NO RUNS.

CINCINNATI.—Thevenow threw out Christensen. Thevenow fell trying for Roush's grounder, which went for a single. Walker walked. Pipp forced Walker. Thevenow hit Hornsbey. In attempt at a double steal, Roush was caught in a run up between third and home but when Bell's throw hit Roush in the head and bounced to the back stop, Roush and Pipp both scored. Drexler then took a called third strike. TWO RUNS.

SECOND INNING.
CARDINALS.—Bell flied to Roush. Hafez singled to left and then stole second. O'Farrell tripped to right, scoring Hafez. O'Farrell tied the score on Thevenow's sacrifice. Christensen. Haines grounded to Pipp. TWO RUNS.

CINCINNATI.—Critz flied to Southworth. Thevenow went into left field for Hargrave's pop fly. Bell threw out Ford. NO RUNS.

PAUL SMITH'S, N. Y., Sept. 3.—President Coolidge had an early breakfast today and drove nearly 40 miles across the mountains to fish for trout in the Ausable River. Although the season for his favorite fish closed Sept. 1 in Franklin County, in which his longtime hunting had been done, trout fishing is permitted in Essex County until Tuesday, and so the chief executive chose one of the best trout waters in that county for another expedition with rod and reel.

Accompanied by his guides and secret service men, Mr. Coolidge motored to a spot about 15 miles east of Lake Placid Village, planning to return to White Pine camp in time for luncheon.

Among the guests whose arrival is looked for is James R. Sheffield, American Ambassador to Mexico. Mr. Coolidge has indicated that he would be pleased to talk over the Mexican situation with Sheffield at first hand, and it is generally expected that the Ambassador will camp at White Pine Camp before the President's departure.

TIRE OUTPUT $925,032,833

Fewer Factories But 43 Per Cent Gain in Product Last Year

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Tires and tubes produced chiefly for automobiles in the United States during 1926 had a wholesale value of $925,032,833, the Department of Commerce reported today. This was an increase of 43.5 per cent compared with the $644,123,697 output in 1923, the last preceding manufacturing census year.

Bicycle and motor cycle tires, included in the 1925 total, account for $3,564,933 of the amount. There were 128 establishments in that year, reported manufacturing goods within the classification, of which 44 were situated in Ohio, 11 each in New Jersey and Pennsylvania, seven in California and the rest scattered in other states. There were 160 such establishments in 1923.

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 3.—Two masked motorists today drove alongside an automobile bearing the payroll of the Acme Rubber Co., forced the driver at the point of a revolver to pull over to the curb, and escaped with a handbag containing $15,000 in cash. The holdup occurred less than 300 feet from the main office of the company and within view of employees spending their lunch hour outside.

G. L. MILLER & CO., BIG BOND HOUSE, IN RECEIVERSHIP

New York Federal Judge Places Lawrence Berenson in Charge of Concern's Affairs.

ASSETS $9,636,987, DEBTS $6,915,324

Firm Has Sold $1,600,000 in Bonds on St. Louis Apartments—Realty Securities Its Specialty.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Lawrence Berenson today was appointed receiver in equity for G. L. Miller & Co., one of the largest real estate mortgage bond houses in the United States.

The firm is understood to have approximately 21,000 customers and 150 loans of a total value of about $50,000,000. The assets are reported to be $9,636,987, and the liabilities $6,915,324.

The company's affairs have been under the scrutiny of the New York Attorney-General's office. Its Pennsylvania license was revoked by the Bureau of Securities at Harrisburg.

Subsidiary Company Fails.

Bernson also was appointed a receiver in equity for a subsidiary company, the Investment Banking Corporation, with offices here. Both companies joined in a petition to Federal Judge Mack for the appointment. Bernson filed a bond of $100,000.

The equity action claims that on April 1 the Miller company entered into a contract with the Park Avenue corporation, obligating itself to pay $1,425,000 in installments. The payment of $50,000 due on Aug. 6 was not made, and, according to the papers, this default caused the corporation to curtail its building operations and delay the completion of the building for a month.

The Miller company yesterday issued a statement saying it had adopted a policy of retrenchment and liquidation because of negotiations for reorganization.

OPOSSUM, WEIGHING 20 POUNDS CAUGHT ON STREET BY POLICE

Animal to Be Sent to Forest Park Zoo Unless Claimed by Its Owner.

A brownish gray opossum, weighing 20 pounds, was caught in front of 4011 Chouteau avenue at 12:40 a. m. today by two detectives.

It spent the night in a large beer mash cask at the Newstead Avenue police station, and never slept a wink.

The detectives say they were walking along Chouteau avenue doing no harm to anybody when suddenly this possum sprang from a dark doorway and struck one of them just behind the knee. He went down and the possum then got himself mixed up with the other detective's feet and he fell. The latter caught the possum by its tail and held it tight until his companion, who had experience with possums, grabbed the prisoner by the neck and tail and held it.

Crew and passengers of an owl car had witnessed the struggle and had got out to help. Between the detectives and the spectators the possum was subdued and placed in a police automobile. The prisoner is held without bail and unless claimed by a proper character witness will be sentenced to an indeterminate term in the Forest Park Zoo.

Two Men in Auto Despoil Frank Crook at Southern Wheel Co. Plant.

Frank Crook, 30 years old, a Negro, of 413 Montrose avenue, was robbed of $500 cash and $1800 in checks by two Negroes, who held him up at 12:30 p. m. today in the plant of the Southern Wheel Co., at 601 South Spring avenue, where he is employed as a laborer.

Crook told Police Captain Wetzel that in conformity with his weekly custom he had drawn $2000 from the bank today to cash the paychecks of his fellow employees. Many of them borrow money from him, he explained, and then make their payments when the checks are cashed. Each Friday he sits at a desk in the washroom with his money beside him and he was there today when the two robbers found him. Afterwards they fled to an

Third in Party at Hostelry Says Pair Had Quarreled Over Size of Stone in Diamond Ring Gift.

By the Associated Press.
LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 3.—Kelly C. Kirtley, 70 years old, wealthy restaurant and hotel man, who formerly lived in Fayette County, killed himself shortly before 7 a. m. today in the bathroom adjoining his room in a hotel here, after he had slain Miss Mildred McDaniels, 26, of Brooklyn.

The girl, a pretty, red-haired telephone operator, who had accompanied Kirtley on a motor trip to Lexington, was shot when she was asleep in the same bed with Miss Alma Gregory, also of Brooklyn.

The two young women had registered at the hotel Wednesday as Alma and Mildred Gregory, both of New York City. According to Alma Gregory, they posed as cousins, and Kirtley as their uncle.

Quarreled Over Size of Gem.

The two had quarreled Thursday night over the size of a stone in a diamond ring Kirtley had given Mildred, Alma said.

Shortly before 7 o'clock this morning, Alma declared, she was awakened by the sound of a pistol shot. She sprang up to see Kirtley standing beside the bed with a pistol in his hand, while Mildred lay still beside her.

"Mr. Kirtley went back into the bathroom, and I saw him through the door as he raised the pistol to his head. I started for the hall door and, as I did, I heard another pistol report," the girl said.

Man Prostrate on Floor.

"I called for help when I got out in the hall and several people came out of their rooms. I started back to our room and, as I did so, I could see Mr. Kirtley, prostrate on the bathroom floor, fumbling around for the pistol. He put his hand on the gun and I turned and started back out. Then I heard another shot."

An examination of Kirtley's body showed that he had two bullet wounds, one in the right side of his head and one over the heart.

Two written messages, which indicated that Kirtley planned the killing and suicide, were found in his room. One was termed a will and was addressed to Thomas B. Adams of Brighton, whom he named executor. The other was addressed to a Lexington undertaker, and contained funeral directions.

Figures in Latest Gang Murder And Bullet-Riddled Automobile

Caesar Cipriano, 22, Slain, and Joseph Manzella Wounded at Garrison and Franklin.

ASSASSINS SHOOT FROM PASSING AUTO

Police Connect This Latest Outbreak With Three Previous Affrays Among the Italians.

A feud between Italian bootleggers flared up again last night to the crash of pistol shots which killed one gangster and seriously wounded another.

The quiet street in front of the Baptist Hospital, at Franklin and Garrison avenues, was the scene of the newest attack. Three other shootings, within the past 17 days, had occurred in the downtown Italian quarter centering around Biddle street, and in them one man was killed and four persons wounded, including a woman passerby.

As he left the hospital, where he had visited a brother-in-law wounded in the first of these recent shootings, Caesar Cipriano, leader of the notorious "East Side Mob," was mortally wounded and Joseph Manzella, a companion, so seriously shot that City Hospital physicians have no hope for his recovery.

As to the circumstances, police can only guess that it is another episode in a three-cornered feud between two St. Louis liquor rings and an East Side bootleg combination. True to the gang code, Cipriano died without talking.

Two Survivors Would Talk.
Manzella, too, has said he cannot explain the shooting, and Joseph Orlando, the third man in Cipriano's machine when the shots were fired last night, is following the example of his companions, apparently content in that he was not struck in the crash of the shooting.

The shooting followed a visit by Cipriano, Manzella and Orlando to the bedside of Frank Agrusa, 24 years old, of 1130 North Eighth street, who was shot in the first of the present series of attacks as he sat in front of the Santa Farm, a religious-social organization, at Eighth and Biddle streets, on Aug. 19. Two other men with him were wounded at the same time.

Cipriano, Manzella and Orlando had gone to see Agrusa, separately, but they left the hospital together at 9 p. m., getting into Cipriano's Hudson coach, which was parked at the curb on Franklin avenue.

Just as he pulled out from the street a Cadillac coupe slipped up alongside. There was a blare of fire and the crash of shots.

Cipriano, at the wheel, brought his car to a bumping stop as the coupe sped away westward. Orlando, the only one of the three untouched by the bullets, sprang from the front of the Santa Farm, the hospital, into which the two men were carried. Later they were removed to City Hospital under police guard, and Orlando was locked up at Headquarters.

Eyewitness Tells Story.
Police could find only one eyewitness—Henry Finkelstein, of 458 E. Cote Brillante avenue, a Deputy Constable, who was standing at the corner when the shooting occurred.

"The coupe seemed to have been parked at the curb behind Cipriano's car," he told police. "It was alongside the other machine and its occupants were shooting when I first saw it. I think there were three men in it. The coupe was stopped—just driven slowly past Cipriano's car, then speeded up again."

Cipriano was struck three times in the left shoulder. An artery was severed and he bled to death at 4 a. m. today.

BELGIAN PROPOSES CHANGE IN TEXT OF RESERVATION TO COURT

Carella dispute between Russia and Finland, in which the Court declined to give an advisory opinion for the reason that Russia, a non-member of the League, objected to the reservation. The Court decided that it did not mean the same thing at all.

Favors Acceptance of Reservations.
Sir Cecil Hurst took up the defense of the League, and favored acceptance of the reservations without quibbling, although he admitted he was aware of the potentialities involved. He accepted Senator Walsh's statement that equality alone is sought, but declared:

"To a state whose representative is to enjoy the same privilege or similar privileges, similar rights and similar duties to those states already members of the League, it is in reality going to confer upon that state a more favorable position because representatives of that state, not a member of the League, will be free from the burden of the League's obligations."

He predicted that the decision given in the Mosul conflict would be adhered to, namely, that when a state is interested in a dispute, its vote shall not be counted in the Council. He saw difficulty, therefore, in the fifth American reservation whether the Council acted by unanimity or simple majority, as the United States would be barred from effective intervention in either case.

He was convinced that America did not want the right of veto in the Council but wanted to remain aloof from all League entanglements; hence he thought treatment as a non-member the most feasible solution. He moved the appointment of a committee to define the exact meaning of the fifth American reservation.

President van Eysinga, summing up, emphasized the desire of the delegates to satisfy the United States and hoped this would be appreciated on the other side of the Atlantic. He hinted that a practical way out of the difficulty would be for the Council to ask a body of jurists instead of the World Court for advisory opinions in the future.

SWEDEN PROPOSES PLAN TO GET U. S. OUT OF COURT

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

GENEVA, Sept. 3.—Dr. Osten Unden, Swedish Foreign Minister, but upon a unique compromise in the World Court muddle caused by American reservations to adherence of the United States to the tribunal. The compromise accepts the reservations, with still another reservation on the part of the Court that, should American interpretation at any time conflict with the League Council's interpretation, American membership shall cease automatically.

The proposal of Dr. Unden, who is one of Europe's leading jurists, came at the end of the second day of debate yesterday.

He advocated the most liberal interpretation of his reservations and said he did not believe it possible for a situation ever to arise where a disagreement would be possible, but maintained that the interests of the League should be guarded as jealously as those of the United States.

At the close of the day it seemed likely that if the United States informs the Court that it seeks only equality through the reservations with the League Council's interpretation, American membership shall cease automatically.

The proposal of Dr. Unden, who is one of Europe's leading jurists, came at the end of the second day of debate yesterday.

He advocated the most liberal interpretation of his reservations and said he did not believe it possible for a situation ever to arise where a disagreement would be possible, but maintained that the interests of the League should be guarded as jealously as those of the United States.

The confessions of John W. Madigan, 30, of Cheyenne, Wyo., one of the two mail clerks found bound in the car after the robbery was discovered, and of others under arrest, the officers say, cleared up a story of two months of plotting. Those held, in Wyoming, besides Madigan, who was taken from here to Cheyenne yesterday, are: Jack Kearns, Salt Lake City, said to be a baseball promoter, and alleged to have planned the robbery with Madigan. Madigan, charged with being one of the ring-leaders.

Ted Theodore, proprietor of a Rock Springs (Wyo.) pool hall, learned of the plan to Madigan, said Madigan, in his confession, already members of the League, it is in reality going to confer upon that state a more favorable position because representatives of that state, not a member of the League, will be free from the burden of the League's obligations."

16 MEN ARE ENTOMBED BY OKLAHOMA MINE EXPLOSION

Little Hope Expressed for Those Still in Pit by Last One Brought Up.

By the Associated Press.
TULSA, Okla., Sept. 3.—Little hope for the 16 or 17 men trapped in West mine No. 29, of the Superior Smokeless Coal Company at Tahona by a gas explosion today was expressed by Lee Carter, last miner brought out of the mine. Carter was almost overcome by gas fumes when a rescue party carried him to safety. He had small hopes for the men remaining in the mine, he said.

Rescue parties, using sponges for protection against the gas, or masks, went into the wrecked mine at regular intervals. Company men did not say how many men had been taken out, although it is understood only a few have been rescued. Miners say about 200 men are employed, but the explosion occurred just before 25 machine men had gone in.

The explosion occurred shortly after the men entered the mine for work. Two miners have been brought out of the mine seriously burned. Rescue parties were organized and physicians sent to the scene. Tahona is in LeFlore County about 10 miles from the Arkansas State line.

BOBBED-HAIRED WOMAN SOUGHT FOR 7 ROBBERIES IN LONDON

Her Many Disguises Baffle Scotland Yard; Two of Her Accomplices Caught.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 3.—A bobbed-haired woman sought, believed to have been involved in seven robberies in the last two weeks, has upset Scotland Yard. No policeman who has seen her has been able to formulate any accurate description because of her many disguises.

In each robbery she has directed operations from an automobile in which she drove the thieves away. In every case but one she has been able to steer herself and accomplices through police nets set to trap her. On the last robbery two men were captured but they refused to disclose the identity of the robber queen.

Arraignment of Rudner and Mazer is expected to be set for Tuesday. Trial of the alleged conspirators is not expected before the last of October. Under Ohio law each may demand a separate trial. Prosecutor C. B. McClintock said, "Evidence in the case is convincing. The State expects to get convictions."

So far as is known, all the evidence presented to the grand jury was circumstantial. The murder of Mellett, publisher of the Canton Daily News and a crusader against vice in Canton, formed one of the most talked about crimes in the history of Ohio if not the country.

Four days before he was slain, a mysterious voice warned Mellett over the telephone that three men would ambush him. Mellett turned out as the voice had said. The supposition that Mellett was murdered as the result of an underworld plot against his activities was the only one advanced. No other theory was even thought of.

Starting out as an investigation into the murder of one man, the inquiry soon took on bigger proportions and shortly became an investigation into vice and crime.

The charges grew out of Christine's remaining away from home several nights last month and Edward's admission that he had permitted her to sleep in his Ford coupe in his father's garage one night during her absence from home. The ceremony was performed at Edwardville last week.

Checking up on the suspicious characters who had been seen in Rock Springs, the inspectors learned of Kearns and Edna Evans. They questioned her, and in her denials she inadvertently let slip bits of vital information.

Madigan was arrested more than a week ago and grilled but the fact was kept secret. All were arrested in Salt Lake except Theodore, who already was in a Rock Springs jail charged with bootlegging.

Bradford led the investigators yesterday to a deserted chicken house 14 miles south of Salt Lake City, where they dug up the loot. It included all the missing money and securities except $500 in untraced $5 bank notes, consigned to Oregon banks. In addition to $2700 in bills, more than $250,000 in bonds were recovered.

3 MEN INDICTED FOR KILLING OF DON R. MELLETT

Ben Rudner and Louis Mazer Are in Custody—Patrick Eugene McDermott Not Apprehended.

By the Associated Press.
CANTON, O., Sept. 3.—Ben Rudner, Louis Mazer and Patrick Eugene McDermott were indicted today by the Stark County grand jury for the first degree murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher, July 16.

Rudner, Massillon hardware merchant, was taken into custody shortly before the grand jury made its report to Judge Agler. Mazer, former Canton poolroom proprietor, was formally charged with the murder in a warrant issued on Aug. 16. He is presently in the Cuyahoga County jail at Cleveland and is held also on a charge of conspiracy to violate the Federal prohibition law.

McDermott, living at Nanty Glo, Pa., and Cleveland, is a large, balding man, 35 years of age, who has been in the city since July 30 as "key man" in the murder mystery. The three names were contained in one indictment.

Return of the indictment was made exactly seven weeks after the publisher was shot and killed at his garage door shortly after midnight July 16. Arraignment of Rudner and Mazer is expected to be set for Tuesday.

Trial of the alleged conspirators is not expected before the last of October. Under Ohio law each may demand a separate trial. Prosecutor C. B. McClintock said, "Evidence in the case is convincing. The State expects to get convictions."

FORMER UNION HEAD SIGNED BY OPERATORS

Charges of being an accessory to an illegal operation and homicide were filed today against William Borchers Jr., son of a wealthy oil operator, follow the death of Miss Margaret A. Foley and the suicide of Dr. Roger S. Parry, a Washington physician.

Dr. Parry was found in a cell in the city jail with his throat cut late yesterday, a short time after he had been arrested in connection with Miss Foley's death. The young woman, member of a prominent family died Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Magdalena Madrell, a midwife. Borchers surrendered to District Attorney Howard W. Hughes and was released under $100,000 bail.

R. E. Burnside, attorney for Dr. Parry, who visited the physician a short time before he ended his life, said Dr. Parry told him he was innocent of any crime. The attorney quoted Dr. Parry as saying "the operation was performed in Pittsburgh, and I merely consented to treat the girl in an effort to restore her to health."

Frank Farrington, long a leading figure in the ranks of the Illinois district of the United Mine Workers of America, who was deported by the district board at Springfield when he accepted employment as labor counsel for the Peabody Coal Co. of Chicago at reputed salary of $25,000 a year.

Conditions generally in Canton, United States District Attorney Berntsen of Cleveland got into it and a Federal grand jury in Cleveland Sept. 15 will begin an investigation of reported conditions in Canton.

Mrs. Florence E. Mellett, widow of the slain man, has filed a civil damage suit in the Federal court against Mazer, Rudner and McDermott for $100,000 and charging them with being co-conspirators in the death of her husband.

Detectives Barry and Behnken fired six shots at three Negroes in a Ford coupe when the Negroes failed to heed orders to halt at the western terminus of the Free Bridge at 5 a. m. today. The Negroes stopped their car in the cut-off at Seventh boulevard and Chouteau avenue and escaped on foot. Tracing the license number, police learned the car belonged to Philip Reese, 819 Madison street, but that he recently had moved to East St. Louis. They believe it was stolen from Reese.

PRIEST, KIDNAPED BY HOODED MOB, UNHURT

Director of Negro School at Norfolk, Va., Attacked—Authorities Won't Act.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 8.—Surprise was expressed here today when it was learned that Princess Anne County authorities had made no attempt to identify or punish 23 robed and hooded men, who Wednesday night kidnaped the Rev. Father Vincent D. Warren, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, as a Negro boy's band of which he was head was giving a concert in the yard of a Negro home near Princess Anne, Va., 15 miles from Norfolk. No action is contemplated, according to county officials.

Father Warren was carried away in an automobile and after long questioning as to his work, as director of a Negro school was released unharmed on a lonely road in the swamp lands.

State Senator James S. Barron, who was retained by Father Warren, may, it was said, take up with Gov. Byrd the inactivity of the authorities.

City officials assert "the Klan had nothing to do with it." Prevailing opinion is to the contrary.

Father Warren, after his return to the city, said he had been told beforehand that there might be some demonstration, but, after consulting Commonwealth's Attorney Edwin Smith, who assured him there would be no trouble, had decided to have the band give the concert "as a serenade to the folks back home."

Sheriff Litchfield, who lives near the scene of the kidnaping, refused to go in search of the abducted priest when the kidnaping was reported to him.

Anti-Liquor Revivalist Says He Was Kidnaped.

By the Associated Press.
CHILDRESS, Tex., Sept. 8.—Kidnaped and taken to Oklahoma as a protest, his followers believe, because of his sermons against liquor, James Barber, who is conducting revivals near here, is prepared to continue his preaching.

Barber said he was approached in Childress Tuesday by a man who asked him to pray for a sick son. He entered the stranger's automobile, where a second man in the car pressed a pistol against his ribs and told him to keep quiet. He says he was then bound and gagged with a cloth over his face and lost consciousness.

Barber was found beneath a culvert near Altus, Ok., and taken to a hospital, where he regained consciousness. He was uninjured and turned to Childress.

FIVE U. S. INDICTMENTS FOR GEORGIA BANK FRAUD

Government Joins State in Proceedings Following Closing of 84 Depositories.

By the Associated Press.
ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 8.—W. D. Manley, president of the defunct Bankers' Trust Co. of Atlanta and four other officers of the depository, the failure of which caused the closing of 84 small banks in Georgia and Florida have been indicted in the United States District Court as well as in the State courts.

Manley was indicted by a Federal grand jury yesterday on charges of using the mails to defraud, shortly after United States District Judge Sibley had appointed Mrs. Valerie Rankin Manley guardian ad litem for her husband and filed her consent to the appointment of a receiver for his property.

RULING ENDS HOPE OF REFUND

OF CALIFORNIA INCOME TAXES
Court Says Wife Has Mere Expectancy, Not Half Vested Interest in Community Property.

By the Associated Press. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.—The State Supreme Court has ruled that a wife in California has a mere expectancy and not an undivided one-half vested interest in community property. (Property held jointly by husband and wife.)

The decision is looked upon as a finishing blow to the move to obtain an interpretation of the community property law, which would make it possible to get a refund of approximately $100,000,000 on income taxes paid by California husbands and wives.

Those pressing the suit contended that amendments to the California Constitution gave the wife a complete interest in one-half of the property of the family. On this ground, it was further contended that husband and wife should make separate income tax returns. In many cases the combined property of husband and wife has run the income into the surtax column and heavier taxes have been paid than would have been the case had separate returns been allowed.

Manville (R. I.) Strike Settled. By the Associated Press. PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 3.—The Manville strike has been settled at a conference in the statehouse between Gov. Aram J. Pothier, Adjutant-General Cole, Manville-Jenckes company officials and strike leaders. The terms of settlement are that one nonunion loom fixer shall be employed. Union men had objected to the employment of three other nonunion men as loom fixers.

BIG FOUR ROUTE

HOME OF CHICAGO POLITICIAN WRECKED BY BOMB BLAST

Members of Morris Eller's Family Hurled From Beds, but Are Uninjured.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—The home of Morris Eller, a Cook County Republican leader, was wrecked early today by a bomb.

Members of the family were hurled from their beds by the blast, which demolished the interior of the building, but were not injured.
Windows were shattered for blocks around.

The bomb was set off in a side doorway of the apartment on the West Side. Persons in an upper apartment, occupied by the family of Eller's son-in-law, and in the adjacent home of Joseph Ginsberg, also were thrown from their beds.

Authorities were first inclined to think the bomb had been intended for the home of Ginsberg, a professional bondsman, who three months ago was kidnaped, shot and thrown out of an automobile. Later, however, they turned to the theory that political enmity was responsible.

Eller, a leader in the Crow-Barrett faction of the Republican forces in Chicago, is a trustee of the Chicago Sanitary District. He was a witness before the Senate committee in its recent investigation of the Illinois primaries.

NEW HAY FEVER PRESCRIPTION BY ST. LOUIS DOCTOR

A St. Louis physician is now offering to the general public a preparation for Hay Fever which has been successfully using in his private practice since 1919, and which he guarantees will give positive relief to the most severe cases of Hay Fever, or it costs nothing.

The principal of the Sherman School of this city, says this prescription permanently relieved him of his Hay Fever. Scores of other St. Louis people praise it highly many of them reporting that the sneezing and other distressing symptoms disappear after one day's treatment. Wolff-Wilson, Johnson Bros., Walgreen and all other good druggists are distributing this treatment, under the name of Hay Remo, with an offer to refund the purchase price to anyone who does not get satisfactory results after using half of it.

If possible use Hay Remo daily before the anticipated attack. This preparatory use adds to the benefit. Hay Remo is also very effective for Cough, Cold, Summer Catarrh and Nasal Sinus Trouble.

THREE MEN EXECUTED FOR MURDER OF ONE

Two White Men and Negro Electrocuted in Penitentiary at Columbus, O.

By the Associated Press. COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 3.—John Bryant, Negro, Richard Rhoades and John Hedrick, white, all of Pomeroy, were electrocuted in the Ohio penitentiary last night for the killing of James McCumber near Pomeroy, March 15.

A party of 25 officials and newspapermen witnessed the executions. McCumber's murder had been termed one of the most brutal of Pomeroy's "Hill of Horrors." Fearful McCumber knew too much about his bootlegging activities Bryant hired Rhoades and Hedrick to "get rid" of him. Although Rhoades and Hedrick had been promised they "would never want" if they did the Negro's bidding, all they ever got for their "job" was $30.

The two men attacked McCumber and forced him to walk in front of them for five miles, firing a bullet through his head and dumping the body in an abandoned cistern.

CHICAGO EXPLORATION TRIP TO ABYSSINIA TO LAST 6 MONTHS

Backers Hope to Find Unknown Birds and Animals and Add to Scientific Knowledge.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—An expedition under the auspices of the Field Museum of Natural History and the Chicago Daily News will leave here Sunday to spend six months in exploring Abyssinia, regarded as one of the two remaining areas of which little is known. The other is the poisonous jungle at the head waters of the Amazon River.

Dr. Wilfred Osgood, curator of the department of zoology of the museum, will head the expedition. His associates will be Jack Baum, special writer for the Daily News; Louis Agassiz Fuertes of Cornell University, painter of birds; Snydam Cutting, court tennis champion, who will be volunteer photographer, as he was for the recent Simpton-Roosevelt expedition to Turkistan; and Alfred M. Bailey, assistant zoologist and taxidermist. It is expected to find unknown birds and animals and that scientific knowledge may be added to importantly.

A short-wave radio outfit will be taken along and the Daily News hopes to print the first news sent from Abyssinia by wireless. The expedition will sail from New York Sept. 7.

Lutherans Bar Dry Law Parley. By the Associated Press. NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 3.—Prohibition enforcement is the responsibility of the state and the church should not be concerned with it, says a resolution adopted by a conference of the Lutheran Church of Louisiana. This action was taken in response to an appeal by O. D. Jackson, Regional Prohibition Administrator, that the Lutherans join in a liquor enforcement conference to be held here soon under the supervision of the Government.

Station Burns at Holland.
STEELE, Mo., Sept. 3.—The Prisco station at Holland, three miles south of here, burned Wednesday. It is thought that the blaze was started by torches used by painter in burning the old paint off the building preparatory to applying a new coat of paint. The building, valued at $3000, was a total loss. Most of the freight and express was saved.

Clears away itching rash in two days Uses Resinol now for all kinds of skin ills

Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 4:—"On July 20, 1917, just before I was called to service in France, I was advised by my druggist to use Resinol Ointment for a rash which I had on my arm. It relieved the itching and the rash was gone in two days.
Later I cured two friends of mine who were suffering from some kind of skin trouble. We all agreed that it was 100% stuff for anything like a breaking out.
While in France I had a bunch of boils that nothing seemed to cure until I had the doctor fix the little place up (after a treatment with a knife) with Resinol. Needless to say, I soon lost all my boils and from that time on I became the outfit's boil and pimple doctor.
Since coming home I have used a great many jars of Resinol and I swear by it. Every little cut or scratch gets its immediate application of Resinol.
It is a wonderful,
non-equalled ointment." (Signed)

CONVICT LABOR IN COAL MINE

State Recalls 100 Prisoners at Work in Leased Shaft at Lexington, Following Many Protests.

UNION THREATENED
ACTION IN COURT

Enloe, in Letter to Governor, Says Company Failed to Find Work for Men Displaced.

By the Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 3.—
One hundred convicts of the Missouri penitentiary, who have been mining coal for several weeks in a leased mine at Lexington, Mo., will be returned to the prison here at once and operations at Lexington will be abandoned. Dr. Cortez F.
Enloe, chairman of the State Penal Board announced.
The decision was reached because of inability of the Western Coal miners, displaced by the convicts,
miners, displaced by the convicts,
at work in another mine, as it agreed to do, Enloe says.
Protests against displacement of the miners with convict labor were made by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America; union mine workers of Missouri, State labor officials and business men of Lexington. Last week, Rube T. Wood, Springfield, president of the State Federation of Labor, announced at a mass meeting here that court action would be begun to end the convict labor.
Enloe also made public a letter to Gov. Baker, in which he said he had made an investigation and "finds that due to causes over which it has no control, the operating company has been unable to put the number of men to work who were formerly employed in the mine, which the State is now operating, the company intended doing this Sept. 1. Therefore, pursuant to your instructions, the Department of Penal Institutions has notified the superintendent of the mine to bring the miners out of the mine at Lexington and cease operations. These miners will be brought to the penitentiary here and placed in the factories, as soon as room can be found for them."
A letter to Enloe from Gov. Baker also was made public in which the Governor said he had determined that the mining company would be unable to replace the regular miners forced out of work by the prison contract until sometime after Sept. 15, and recommended that the prisoners be withdrawn.
MERCHANT SUED FOR $20,000 DAMAGES BY CHINESE WAITER Suit for $20,000 damages was filed yesterday in Circuit Court by Flick Chin Young, a Chinese waiter, at the Orient restaurant, 414 North Seventh street, against Louis A.
Grollneck, proprietor of a clothing store at 800 North Broadway.
The plaintiff complains that on the night of Aug. 16 a Constable, at the instance of the defendant, took him from the restaurant to an adjacent alley and endeavored through threats to make him pay an account he was alleged to have owed Grollneck. The constable, it is alleged, took $5 away from the plaintiff. According to the petition, Flick Chin Young was frightened and lost three days work in addition to being humiliated.
Grollneck could not be reached.

SEARCH FOR MISSING FLYERS
Avtiators in Rescue Planes Scan Pennsylvania Mountains.
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 3.—The mountains of Western Pennsylvania, regarded by airplane pilots as one of the worst stretches of the country to pass in bad weather, are being searched again today for missing aviators.
Inclement weather a little more than a week ago caused Lieut. Cyrus K. Bettis, crack army flyer, to lose his way while crossing the Alleghenies, with the result that he crashed into a mountain side, dying later from his injuries. For two days brother officers flew back and forth across the mountains searching for him. The present search is for Lloyd Spearman and George Wels of Wichita, Kan., who took off from Pittsburg Wednesday for the national air races that open here Saturday. They were expected to reach Model Farms Field yesterday.

GUNMAN SLAIN AFTER KILLING MAN IN HOLDUP

Companion of Gary (Ind.)
Robber Captured After Fight in Which Policeman Is Shot.

By Associated Press.
GARY, Ind., Sept. 3. — Two gunmen, with a bravado inspired by liquor, terrorized the principal business street, killed one man and probably fatally wounded another last night before a pistol fight ended in the death of one and the capture of his companion.

With a hastily deployed police cordon closing in, they parted and after shooting the clerk in a board hall, he last of three places held up within a few minutes time.
One commanded a taxicab standing outside and was slain, as he sped toward the outskirts, in an exchange of shots with Patrolman Richard Flynn, himself seriously wounded. The other youth fled and was captured.

The gunman killed was identified as Harry Bolds, 25 years old, of Youngstown, O., a lake sailor. His companion, who later was reported to have said he had not known Bolds before the two met at a saloon earlier in the night, was Russell
Gustafson, 21, of Halstead, Ill.

Charles Costenberger was shot down when he was slow to obey commands and, by unusual circumstances, without some of the players in the crowded room halting their games. A few minutes before, someone had thrown two firecrackers through the back door, their explosion throwing the place into confusion. The games were resumed and when the shots were heard only a few persons looked around to see that the reports were of firecrackers.

The youths first appeared at the North Shore Electric Railway Station, obtained a small sum of money and proceeded to the Broadway Hotel, a block away. There they again took a small amount of money and a diamond ring from the proprietor and advanced to the Willard establishment while the police cordon closed in on them.

LOSSES SUIT TO CANCEL NOTE GIVEN TO FORMER DRY AGENT

E. Wulfer's Plea Was That He Signed $6666 Obligation When Threatened by L. H. Gatter.

Lorance E. Wulfer, owner of Lakewood Inn, near Affton, yesterday lost his suit to cancel a promissory note for $6666 executed by him to Louis H. Gatter, former Federal prohibition agent, who was shot last April by Wulfer in a quarrel over monthly payments on the note.

In Judge Calhoun's Court, Wul-fer declared that he was compelled by threats of violence to sign the note for which he received no value, and to execute chattel mortgages on fixtures at Lakewood Inn. Gatter, who has recovered, swilled the transaction was made last February to cover various debts he had made to Wulfer from time to time. A notary public testified that Wulfer signed voluntarily.

Judge Calhoun held that the note was a legal obligation and without a restraining order, which had prevented legal action to collect it, Gatter was shot when he crowded Wulfer to the curb at Norganford road and Beethoven avenue after a chase of several blocks.

ONLY LECTURE ON TITIAN PAINTING AT NUGENTS

A Titian painting, "The Raising of Lazarus," is on exhibition in Nugent's store, where it is unveiled, and an explanatory talk is made, four times daily. The times for the display are 10 a. m., 12:30, 2:30 and 4 p. m. The painting is not on view at other times. The exhibition is free to the public.

Titian, master painter of Venice, lived almost 100 years, from 1477 to 1576, and painted some 500 canvases, of which about 150 are in the world's art collections, chiefly in the great galleries of Europe.
"The Raising of Lazarus" was taken from Rome by Napoleon's army, and was brought from Paris to this country by Jerome Bonaparte, Prince of Westphalia, who married a Baltimore young woman.
Jerome was called back to Europe by his imperial brother, but the painting stayed in this country, and is now owned by W.
Crawford Anderson of New York, who is exhibiting it in leading retail stores through the country.

$100 FINE, 120 DAYS FOR INTOXICATED AUTO DRIVER

Lawrence B. Carter of 3507 worker, was fined $100 and sentenced to 120 days in jail by City Judge Beck yesterday on charges of driving an automobile while intoxicated, careless driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

Testimony was that on Aug. 5, when driving on the wrong side of the street his automobile struck a machine owned by Ernest Stull of 4647 Geraldine avenue, at West Florissant and Holly avenues. Stull said that after arguing about the accident, Carter drove away. Carter announced he would appeal.

FOR Sour Stomach

PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Hereafter instead of soda take a little "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda
For fifty years genuine "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Try a 25c Bottle

Insist upon "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

CRIMINAL TRIAL DELAYS HIT

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Lawyers defending criminals in New York courts will be held to strict accountability for unprofessional conduct in delaying trials, if recommendations of the New York County grand jury are carried out. The grand jury also recommended that the English system of limiting time for appeals be adopted, and that officials co-operate in obtaining heavier sentences for criminals.

CIRCUS FLEA TRAINER FAILURE AS CARPENTER

"Lawler" Daley's Troubles in Getting House Repaired Aired in Justice Court.

"Lawler" Daley, being a widely known Democratic politician and needing the services of a carpenter who should be his hire but his old friend, John Simmons, and where should he meet John Simmons but in a saloon? And what should John Simmons say but "Sure Mike, Lawler, I'm a good carpenter and I'll take the job?" As Daley explained it to Justice of the Peace Grassmuck yesterday these were all natural happenings. Naturally, too, he expected John Simmons to finish the carpenter work agreed upon within ten days as Daley's tenants could move into the house at 3516 Lawton avenue, which he had rented.

But—and Daley's expression was slightly pained at memory of it—John Simmons had not kept his word. He had collected $40 from Daley for use in buying lumber and had spent it buying liquor. He had sent a 65-year-old man out to Daley's house to do the carpenter work. This man, even John Simmons admitted yesterday, was not a carpenter. But he had come to John well recommended. Those who recommended him told the man had spent 40 years with a circus. He had never been a carpenter. He was a flea trainer.

Flea Trainer Wouldn't Do.
So Daley had hunted up his good friend John Simmons in a saloon and told him the flea trainer would not do; that John, himself, should do the work. So John went out and worked a day and then disappeared. When Daley found him again he was in jail, and for old time's sake bailed him out. John collected $50 from his good friend, "Lawler," to buy more wood with, as he laughingly expressed it, and promised to have the job done on time.

Then he went on a spree. He told Justice Grassmuck yesterday, however, that he made a sincere effort to finish friend Daley's house before 10 days were up. "Why, once, Judge, he even got out of his chair at the saloon and went out at 2 o'clock in the morning to work on that house."

"But it wasn't the right house, Judge," Daley complained. "It wasn't my house at all. It was some other folk's house and they were hopping mad when John started hammering on their porch at 2 a. m."

Admits Making Mistake.
John admitted he had made a mistake in the houses. But he had tried his best. That was why he felt called upon to sue his good friend Daley for wages due. All he got from Daley so far was $30 "to buy wood with" and harsh words. Didn't the Judge think Daley should pay him?

Justice Grassmuck said, much as he disliked to hurt John's feelings, that he didn't. Daley won the case.

DIFFICULTIES OF GETTING VOTERS TO POLLS EXPLAINED

Election Board Chairman at Ward Meeting of C. O. P. Requests Co-Operation.
Getting out the vote is a hard job, as described by Chairman George Elgel of the Election Board, in a talk before the Thirteenth Ward Republican Club at Rubenham Business College last night. First, the voter must be made to register. Then, having registered, he must be followed up and exhorted to vote.

Because a person has registered, Elgel said, it does not follow that he or she will vote. Very small matters may suffice to keep registrants away from the polls. The speaker said that, in the last 20 elections, including the primary of a month ago, the average vote, as compared with registration, was only 43 per cent. He expressed the hope that the registration work of both the Republican and Democratic committees, and the follow-up work on election day, would be done thoroughly. Sept. 23 is registration day for those who have attained voting age or changed place of residence since the last registration, or who for any reason.

BOY TO GET MEDAL FOR SAVING ANOTHER'S LIFE

Ralston-Purina Commission Makes Award to Elmer Friedrich, 15, of Belleville.
The Ralston-Purina Hero Commission at Peoria has awarded to Elmer Friedrich, 15 years old, of 1105 Bristow street, Belleville, a medal for saving a small boy from drowning in a pond last May. Friedrich rescued Robert Mayes, 5, after the latter had fallen into an abandoned reservoir on the outskirts of Belleville May 1.

As soon as the medal arrived Scout Executive Selzer will arrange a presentation ceremony, which is to be attended by all Boy Scouts in the city. The medal is awarded by the Ralston-Purina Co. for heroism and self-sacrifice among boys and girls in the country.

Murder Charge Dismissed.
By the Associated Press.
ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 3.—Floyd and Ernest Van Valkenburg, cousins and ex-convicts, who were charged with first-degree murder in the shooting of Elmer Hutchins, son of St. Joseph, whose body was left on the sidewalk in Watneha, Kan., last Friday night, by the Van Valkenburgs, were released after their preliminary hearing before Justice E. C. Winter at Troy, Kan. No evidence was introduced at the trial to justify holding the two men, Justice Winter said.

A Better Gasoline has swept the country!

The American motoring public has given an unprecedented country-wide endorsement of The Texas Company's latest motor product.

Daily, more and more of the new and better Texaco is flowing into the tanks of motorists. Car owners and drivers are enthusiastic. Reports of increased mileage are universal. Texaco dealers everywhere report increased sales.

Such a marked public expression of approval could only come from the appreciation of noticeably better results attained in the motor.

The new and better Texaco is nationally distributed, nationally demanded. Wherever you go, it is always uniform.

The new and better Texaco forms a dry gas!

The difference in gasolines is largely one of wetness and dryness. Texaco forms a dry gas—a perfect mixture of vapor and air at ordinary engine temperatures. It is a difference in volatility, in the boiling point, end point and distillation. The new Texaco is better throughout the whole range of distillation.

Results are just as remarkable as its qualities. The new Texaco insures far better manifold distribution and a livelier, more responsive engine, an easier start, quicker pick-up and smoother operation. You will notice the better hill work and freedom from knocking. The new Texaco has exceptional anti-knock qualities—attained without the addition of dopes or chemicals.

Carburetor adjustment is not imperative—you will get better results in any event, but still better if adjusted to the lean mixture that the new and better Texaco makes possible.

THE TEXAS COMPANY, U. S. A., Texaco Petroleum Products

The NEW and BETTER
TEXACO
FORMS A DRY GAS

WET or DRY

A wet gas, as it would appear in the manifold, is a mixture of gasoline vapor with minute liquid gasoline globules which form a wet film at the manifold bends and enrich certain cylinders at the expense of others.

A dry gas, the new Texaco, vaporizes at a lower temperature than others on the market and forms a perfect dry motor fuel which distributes evenly and gives a smooth flow of power to every cylinder.

Every Texaco pump now dispenses the new and better Texaco Gasoline.

DETAILS OF ARMY AIR WORK AT EXPOSITION

Greater St. Louis Fair Offers Means of Giving Public Comprehensive Idea of Service.

Taking advantage of the opportunity afforded by the Greater St. Louis Exposition to make its work more familiar to the public, the Army Air Corps has prepared for the fair one of the most comprehensive exhibits of aeronautical equipment ever shown in the Middle West.

The display, which will be ready when the exposition opens tomorrow, is in charge of Lieutenant-Colonel John A. Pagelow, Commandant of Scott Field. Visitors will be guided by Lieut. James A. Healy, World War ace; S. G. Somers, civilian employee of the Air Corps, and Master Sgt. R. J. Rumpel, who will explain the items in the exhibit.

Included in it is a Liberty engine, the most reliable power plant no win use in the Air Corps. It has been cut open at various points so that visitors may see how it is constructed and may watch its operation as it is driven through its cycles by an electric motor.

Another interesting exhibit is a propeller, only partially completed, so that the visitor may trace each of the seven stages through which it passes in manufacture. Steel propellers also are on display.

An open parachute, placed so that its operation by the flyer may be traced, is one of the outstanding articles in the display. A supercharger, bombs of all sizes up to 200 pounds, models of virtually all the new army aircraft, sectionalized carburetors and fuel systems, night flying equipment, a sectionalized machine gun, photographic displays and a full rigged Sperry Messenger airplane are also included.

TESTS SUBURBAN ZONING LAW

Webster Groves Property Owner Attacks Ordinance in Court.

Petition for a writ of mandamus was filed yesterday by the law firm of Judson, Green and Henry in behalf of Clifford Tausig of Webster Groves, asking the St. Louis Court of Appeals for relief from the zoning ordinance in Webster Groves, which classified Tausig's property at Lockwood and Sylvester avenues as in "a second-class residential district."

The petition sets forth that Tausig desires to erect an apartment house on his lot and argues that the ordinance is arbitrary and oppressive. An order was issued by Judge Nipper directing Fred Norris, Building Commissioner of Webster Groves, to show cause why the writ of mandamus should not be issued.

4 CASES OF BUBONIC PLAGUE FATAL IN AZORES QUAKE ZONE

General Sanitary Situation Reported Satisfactory; Government Commendable Food Supplies.

By the Associated Press.

HORTA, Azores, Sept. 2.—There have been four cases of bubonic plague and two deaths from it since last Tuesday's earthquake, in which it is estimated 1600 houses were destroyed and at least 25 persons were killed and several hundred injured. The Governor of the Islands, who also is a physician, said today the general sanitary situation was satisfactory.

The Government has commandeered all food supplies to avoid hoarding and profiteering. The people continue to live outdoors. Burying of water mains has necessitated rationing water.

The quake caught American Consul Remillard at his morning shave. He rushed outdoors and saw his own and adjoining houses swaying and other houses falling. The stairways of the Consulate fell and the ceilings of two rooms and one wall collapsed. The Consul established his office on the veranda of his residence.

There have been no reports of casualties among the small American colony. Most of these are naturalized Portuguese-Americans. An American woman who went through the great Tokio quake says the disturbance here was equally as violent.

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—Two years of operation of the Dawes plan to an end with complete violation of the experts' repatriation program. Although rumors of a financial crisis in Germany have been circulating, and compensation for foreign loans from German nationalists, the fact remains that the third year's payment for under the reparations plan is not smaller than the second year's and there is absolute reason to believe that it cannot be met easily. All pessimistic predictions that the payments under the Dawes plan are breaking many's back have failed and taxes have been considerably lightened.

If, as many persons believe, real cost will come in the fifth and sixth years when the reparations payments will be considerably higher, the means for revising within the plan itself.

Business Nearly Recovered
German business and industry the past year have made a complete recovery, and foreign parts as well as German automobiles consider the situation nearly normal.

The Germans' greatest problem today is unemployment. A number of unemployed—if the registered are considered, a much lower than 2,000,000 will not be conceivably reduced by the Dawes plan, many Germans but to the introduction of new methods and better machinery both of which they expect to improve.

Serious consideration is devoted to the reduction of the unemployment among agricultural labor. It is now admitted that the German colonies did not furnish proper home for Europeans and a consequence German eyes turned to those still un-European sections of the world where colonization is possible.

Perhaps the likeliest place for colonization is in the southern part of the Portuguese colony of Angola where the climate is temperate. Talk of Colonizing Angola
German experts figure that cost of endowing 100,000 families with $2000 each a year would cost more than supporting same families as unemployed in Germany. There is a hope pressed that Portugal, while without men and means for a scale colonial undertaking, is willing to sell the Angola territory. There is even talk of many working with Italy to claim for mandated territory in the future.

The German budget is balanced and employees' salaries though low, are not much less than before the war. The relationship between the reparations and the appointed under the Dawes plan have been cordial and friendly. The Germans furnished the information without reserve are beginning to see that the Gilbert reports on German business conditions are worth a serious study. The optimistic predictions of the age have realized in full and his prestige greater than ever.

The discordant voices are those of communists and extremists, who are united in calling the reparations a slave driver, and who believe the Dawes plan can only be carried out by the complete impoverishment of the German masses. Nationalists have implied that serious railway accidents were due to the international agreement which by reducing staff drove the dismissed workers to despair. The present wave of criticism in Germany is upward and serious criticism of the Dawes plan has not developed.

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—Two years of operation of the Dawes plan drew to an end with complete vindication of the experts' reparation program. Although rumors of reversion, largely from international financial circles, continue to circulate, and complaints are persistent from foreigners and German nationalists, the crushing tributes, the fact remains that Germany is bearing her burden well.

The third year's payment called for under the reparation plan is rather smaller than the second year's and there is absolutely no reason to believe that it cannot be met easily. All pessimistic predictions that the payments under the Dawes plan are breaking Germany's back have failed and the taxes have been considerably lighter.

As many persons believe, the real test will come in the fourth and fifth years when the reparation payments will be considerably higher, the means for revision exist within the plan itself.

Business nearly recovered.

German business and industry in the past year have made an almost complete recovery, and foreign exports as well as German authorities consider the situation here nearly normal.

The German's greatest problem today is unemployment. The number of unemployed—if the unemployed are considered along with those receiving doles—is not much fewer than 2,000,000 and will not be conceivably reduced. This is due in any large sense to the Dawes plan, many Germans say, but to the introduction of American methods and better machinery, both of which they expect to continue.

Serious consideration is devoted to the reduction of the unemployment among agricultural laborers, as is now admitted that the former German colonies did not furnish a proper home for Europeans and as a consequence German eyes are turned to those still un-Europeanized sections of the world where colonization is possible.

Perhaps the likeliest place for colonization is in the southern part of the Portuguese colony of Angola, where the climate is temperate.

Talk of Colonizing Angola.

German experts figure that the cost of colonizing 100,000 families with 2,000 each a year would not cost more than supporting the same families as unemployed in Germany. There is a hope expressed that Portugal, which is without men and means for large scale colonial undertaking, might be willing to sell the Angola territory. There is even talk of Germany's working with Italy in a claim for mandated territory in the far future.

The German budget is firmly balanced and employees' salaries, though low, are not much lower than before the war. The relations between authorities and the agents appointed under the Dawes plan have been cordial and friendly. The Germans furnished the fullest information without reserve and are beginning to see that the so-called Gilbert reports on German business conditions are worthy of domestic study. The optimistic predictions of the agent have been realized in full and his prestige is greater than ever.

The discordant voices are chiefly those of communists and extreme nationalists, who are busy in calling the reparations agent a slave driver, and who believe that the Dawes plan can only be carried out by the complete impoverishment of the German masses. The nationalists have implied that numerous military accidents recently were due to the international management which by reducing the staff drove the dismissed workers to despair. The present war tendency in Germany is upward and criticism of the Dawes plan is not developed.

MEXICAN LABOR BACKS BILL ENFORCING PROFIT-SHARING

President Calles May Be Asked to Promulgate It Should Congress Fail to Enact It —Business Men Fear Its Effect.

By the Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, Sept. 3.—The Mexican business world fears Congressional enactment of a new labor law which, some industrial and commercial leaders say, may handicap the country's commerce and industry severely.

The present session of Congress is expected again to consider the labor bill, which passed the Chamber of Deputies last year and was favorably received in the Senate. The bill, demanded by organized labor and viewed sympathetically by the Government, requires employers to share profits with employees and prescribes in great detail workmen's benefits required of employers. Some manufacturers and business men have said these requirements would so burden their business as to force them to close. Official reports were made to the United States Government last year that the measure would be more harmful to American business interests in Mexico than the alien land and petroleum laws.

Business Already Dull.

Business in Mexico was bad before the religious crisis began, and it has been affected by the economic boycott fostered in opposition to the Government's religious regulations. In addition, the new labor law is enacted and provisions for as great a handicap to business, as some fear, the situation will be exceedingly serious.

Labor leaders deny the proposed law will be unjustly burdensome on industrialists. They say it is nothing more than such enlightened legislation as some other countries know, and that it is the just due of Mexican labor, long oppressed, exploited and subjected to miserable living conditions.

Governments concerned, has signed an agreement with the German Finance Minister, Dr. Reinhold, by which Germany during the third Dawes plan year, ending Aug. 31, 1927, obligates herself to pay a lump sum of 300,000,000 gold marks (about $75,000,000) in lieu of two supplemental contingent budgetary contributions of 250,000,000 marks, payable by Aug. 31, 1928, and Aug. 31, 1929.

Under the Dawes plan, Germany, besides paying fixed reparations of 1,200,000,000 gold marks during the third annuity year and 1,750,000,000 marks the fourth year, is contingently liable to supplemental payments not exceeding 250,000,000 marks annually, provided the aggregate yield of controlled revenues exceeds 1,000,000,000 gold marks during 1926-27 and 1,250,000,000 gold marks during 1927-28.

The experience of the second annuity year showed these contingencies are likely to arise, so that the payment of a lump sum of 300,000,000 marks, while somewhat in the nature of speculation, will mean the saving of 200,000,000 marks. To the creditors the agreement means the substitution of a fixed sum in cash for an uncertain sum to be paid later.

Funds available for deliveries in kind during the third annuity year will be substantially increased. In explaining the effect of the agreement, Gilbert says:

"The result is an important change in the arrangement of annuities payable under the terms of the plan. Without these new agreements the annuities would have risen from 1,200,000,000 gold marks in the third annuity year to 2,000,000,000 in the fourth and 2,750,000,000 in the fifth year. This would have meant an increased burden on German economy of 800,000,000 marks in the fourth year, as compared with the third, and a further heavy increase in the fifth as compared in the fourth year.

If Congress fails to enact the bill, Mexican organized labor may attempt to obtain its promulgation by the President. Some of its most important provisions are:

Employers must share profits with employees, or pay them a fixed bonus.

Employers' committees are empowered to examine employers' books and fix the amount of profits to be divided with workmen.

Employers must pay minimum wages, the amounts to be determined by workmen's committees.

Eighty per cent of the employees of every concern must be Mexican citizens.

The eight-hour working day, with overtime, is required.

Workmen's compensation for injuries is provided.

Employers are required by the bill to deposit with the Government such sums as the President may require to guarantee fulfillment of its terms.

Mexican Prelate Gives First Hand Report on Situation to Pope.

By the Associated Press.

ROME, Sept. 3.—A first hand report of the Mexican religious situation was given Pope Pius today by Mgr. Crespi, secretary of the apostolic delegation to Mexico, received in private audience. Mgr. Crespi reviewed the situation from its origin to the circumstances surrounding his departure from the country, including the steps taken by the Mexican Government to put its religious regulations into effect, and the attitude adopted by the Mexican episcopate in opposing the regulations. The Pope evinced the greatest interest, and expressed deep compassion for the position in which the Mexican Catholics found themselves.

PUBLIC DEBT OF AMERICA CUT $88,000,000 IN AUGUST

Gross Total Now $19,534,371,300;
Third Liberty Loan Being Retired.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The Treasury Department public debt was slashed by $88,000,000 during August, bringing the total reduction for the last year to almost $1,000,000,000, and leaving the gross debt at $19,534,371,300.

Most of the August reduction was accomplished through the retirement of the third Liberty loan bonds, on which the Treasury now is applying money from the new revenue law, brought less than last year, however, amounting to $52,264,461, compared with $96,139,138 for last August. Most of this reduction was attributed to the repeal of the capital stock levy, which usually was paid during August and September.

Customs and income tax receipts for August continued to fall well below last year's level, totaling $51,814,615, and $42,300,000, respectively, compared with $49,113,770 and $55,799,603 for last August.

Miscellaneous taxes, many of which were repealed by the new revenue law, brought less than last year, however, amounting to $52,264,461, compared with $96,139,138 for last August. Most of this reduction was attributed to the repeal of the capital stock levy, which usually was paid during August and September.

On DEMOCRACY IN CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.—Control of the Democratic party in California appeared today to rest in the hands of William Gibbs McAdoo, who was elected to the office only a split victory with backers of Gov. Smith of New York in Tuesday's primary election, the balance of power was believed to be largely with McAdoo. This was based on results in the race for the Democratic nomination for the United States Senate and governorship.

John B. Elliott of Alhambra, Collector of the Port of Los Angeles under Woodrow Wilson, and personally sponsored by McAdoo, had a commanding lead of approximately 15,000 over Isidore Dockweiler, veteran Bourbon wheel horse and Al Smith backer, for the senatorial nomination. Elliott entered the Democratic race after the pre-primary Democratic convention had selected the Democratic nominee. He was generally admitted he did so at the urging of McAdoo.

In his announcement of candidacy, Elliott charged the candidacy of Dockweiler was an attempt to "screw up California for Al Smith." He charged that the Smith Hall had selected the candidate, and his campaign was based strictly on this issue, with McAdoo's open support.

On the other hand, Carl Alex Johnson, supported by McAdoo in the race for the Democratic nomination for the governorship, is trailing Justus Wardell, "Tammany candidate," in a close vote.

BISHOPS DECLARE CALLES CLOSES EYES TO FACTS

His Real Object, They Assert, Is to De-Catholicize Mexico—Foreign Interest Justified.

SAY HE FEARS PUBLIC OPINION

Catholics, Declare Prelates, Are Fighting for Free Press, Free Speech, Freedom of Worship.

By ARTHUR CONSTANTINE.
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 3.—The Catholic Episcopate has replied to the message of President Calles to Congress. The bishops challenge him to let public opinion decide the issue between them.

While the declaration was given out yesterday in the name of the episcopate it was the work of Archbishop Francisco Jimenez y Orozco of Guadalajara, Archbishop Leopoldo Ruiz y Flores of Mexico, and Bishop Pascual Diaz of Tabasco. They are the militants of the church cause.

They addressed themselves to foreign public opinion and pointed straight at the public opinion of the United States. They labeled their statements: "The report of the President on the religious question."

"Senior Calles," the episcopate statement says, "begins by lamenting that more importance has been given to the religious matter in foreign countries than in Mexico. That is like shutting one's eyes to the light of day, and denying the facts."

"In foreign countries it was enough when the antireligious articles of the 1917 constitution and the law of July 2 became known for indignation to prevail among all sects—among Protestants and Jews as well as Catholics. It is enough for Senior Calles to say that the victims of these passionate articles and tyrannical laws have not given them importance. He accuses the clergy of rebelling against institutions when history shows that ever since 1823 the church has been the victim of political maneuvers christened with the name of 'institutions' as the present laws make clear to the whole world."

Charge of Rebellion False.

"But in his recent reply to the Episcopate, Senior Calles recognizes that suspension of worship is not rebellion. This and nothing else has been the attitude of the clergy and the Catholic people, and history testifies how many times they have been persecuted against them. When Senior Calles charges that the church always has been rebellious against institutions he utters a calumny. Better might he have said that from 1823 to date all the governments have been oppressors of the church, guided by radical Jacobinism or premature bolshevism."

"Senior Calles asserts that the great majority of the Mexican people will give him their indispensable support to carry out the work of the church. We know that the great majority of the Mexican people are Catholics. But at the end of his message there is a conflicting statement. There he voices his fears, which really are well founded, that the work probably has not been understood or appreciated thoroughly."

De-Catholicizing Mexico.

"If the great majority of the Mexican people were on the side of Senior Calles it doubtless would be because they have so well understood his work and duly appreciated it—the de-Catholicizing of Mexico."

By Institutions We Understand the necessary liberties with their respective duties in all classes of society; the rest is subject to revision. By the same token there is no rebellion. Rather it is true patriotism for Catholics to re-claim the liberties to which they are rightfully entitled—freedom of thought, freedom of the press, freedom of education, freedom of worship, freedom of association, and the right to hold property in common. The point is, that all civilized nations grant these liberties to the church."

State and National Wet Leaders Split Over Missouri's Dry Law

JAMES W. BYRNES.

W. H. STAYTON.

James W. Byrnes Says Capt. Stayton Is 1000 Miles Away and Doesn't Understand the Missouri Situation.

The Missouri branch of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment has been left high, if not dry, by the statement of Capt. W. H. Stayton of Baltimore, founder and financial backer of the national association, asking Missouri voters to vote against Proposition No. 4 for repeal of the State prohibition law.

Just before Stayton's announcement, local officers of the Missouri branch had been talking over what they could do to get out the vote for the proposition and to counteract the opposition to it. They decided that James W. Byrnes, vice president and acting head of the State organization, in the absence of former Judge Henry S. Priest, should prepare a statement. Byrnes set out to prepare the statement.

Missouri Wets Won't Quit.

He is still at work on it, but he paused long enough to say yesterday afternoon that Stayton, being 1000 miles away, did not understand the situation here, and that Proposition No. 4 would stay on the ballot and would receive all the votes that he and the local wets could muster for it.

The State branch is not governed very closely by the central organization, Byrnes said. It is not a labor union where the locals must obey the international officers or be outlawed. It is not even like the Antislavery League, in which the State superintendents get their cases, if not their orders, from national headquarters.

All the same, the local officers had expected Stayton to stay with them. He had a good deal to do with getting them into the campaign. He was here in June and told them that if they would meet the expense of getting initiative petitions, the national organization would help with the expense of the actual campaign. Now, instead of helping, Stayton is advising people to vote against the proposition.

His reason, as he stated yesterday, is that the wet association favors regulation and restriction of the liquor business, and that the proposed repeal would wipe out all restrictive State law. That is as true as last June as it is now. But as an added reason, Stayton says that the primary of a month ago resulted in naming "two liberals, Hawes and Williams," for the senatorial nominations. So, he said, any further expression of Missouri's opinion would be superfluous.

Byrnes, who is still remembered for his campaign for Mayor against Henry Kiel five years ago, is not the kind to quit because the number of his opponents has increased; he will merely amplify his pending argument a little and will make it include Stayton as well as the church folks who met in Jefferson City yesterday to organize against Proposition No. 4.

"The matter must be taken off the vulgar plane of a wet and dry contest," Byrnes said, in indicating what his forthcoming statement will convey. "The point is, that the national Government has adopted a policy, and that it is the duty of Congress to stand by that policy and vote all the funds needed to enforce it, without looking to the states, or bringing up confusing issues or jurisdiction and double jeopardy. That is the purpose of the vote to be taken in this State, and we shall go right ahead with it."

He could not say what would be done in the way of campaigning through the State. Judge Priest, who made the only public address thus far in support of Proposition

DRYS WILL RAISE $50,000 TO FIGHT PROPOSITION NO. 4

Charles M. Hay Announces the Amount and Declares That Wets Will Have $200,000 Fund.

D. W. HILL ELECTED TO HEAD CAMPAIGN

Resolutions of Organization Rally at Jefferson City Attack Repeal as "Breach of Faith."

By CURTIS A. BETTS.
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 3.—Missouri prohibitionists plan a $50,000 campaign to defeat initiative Proposition No. 4 for the repeal of the State dry-enforcement act. This was the amount set yesterday by Charles M. Hay of St. Louis, premier in the formation of the Citizens' Organization Opposed to Proposition No. 4.

There was no secret made of the plan for a big campaign fund. Hay, replying to an inquiry from I. K. Kelso of St. Louis, an owner of public utility properties, announced the figure openly in the mass meeting of approximately 1000 men and women from all the congressional districts in the State gathered in the State Capitol to organize for the fight.

Wards were passed at the meeting, much in the manner that funds are obtained by the Anti-Saloon League, with a request for pledges. Hay read a telegram from Clarence H. Howard of St. Louis, president of the Commonwealth Steel Co., contributing $1000. Kelso also contributed $1000. There was no check-up of the amounts on the pledge cards, but most of them were for small amounts.

David W. Hill, vice president of the International Life Insurance Co., was chosen president of the dry campaign organization, and Mrs. W. E. Ewing of Odessa secretary. These selections preserved the non-partisan character of the meeting. Hill being a Republican and Mrs. Ewing a Democrat.

The immediate direction of the dry campaign will be by an executive committee chosen last night. This executive committee consists of its chairman, E. W. Stephens of Columbia; three vice chairmen, H. M. Beardsley of Kansas City, Clarence H. Howard of St. Louis and Frank M. McDowell of Springfield; and Hill, Mrs. E. T. Smith of University City, Mrs. Frank P. Hays of St. Louis, Fred Naeter of Cape Girardeau and J. W. Head of Palmyra.

Repeal a "Breach of Faith."

Resolutions were adopted expressing opposition to Proposition No. 4, and characterizing it as "an effort to have the people of Missouri break faith with the Federal Government by nullifying a constitutional provision."

Another resolution declared that 6250 State officials available now for prohibition enforcement would be withdrawn should the proposal be adopted and less than 75 Federal officials would be the only ones in the State to combat "moonshine, bootleggers, rum runners and their partners in crime."

The drys urged that Missouri be the first State to reaffirm its support of prohibition by defeating the proposed measure.

Summary of Resolutions.

The resolutions may be further summarized as follows:

Adoption of the proposal would tie the hands of State officials, and by forcing a reliance on Federal officials to protect the State from outside would be a surrender of State sovereignty. Adoption of the proposal would plunge Missouri into a state of unparalleled lawlessness. There is no middle ground between prohibition as desired in the eighteenth amendment and liquor traffic in violation of the amendment. If the present State law is repealed, the State would have no authority to regulate or restrict the liquor traffic. We warn people against indifference, or being lulled into false security by recent statements of officers of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment. In addition to the speeches of Gov. Baker and Hay, which were published in the Post-Dispatch yesterday, later speakers were Mrs. Neile G. Burger, president of Missouri W. C. T. U.; former Congressman P. D. Decker of Joplin; State Senator A. L. McCawley of Carthage, author of the law which proposed No. 4; and the Rev. Grant Robbins of St. Louis. Mrs. Burger read her letter replying to Senator Reed's letter to her on which Reed opposed the repeal of the State enforcement act, but protested against constitutional prohibition. Mrs.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Grand Opera in English.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

OUR opinion that the English language, especially in translations, is unsuitable for grand opera is not shared by the audiences who have heard the performances of "Trovatore" and "Carmen" at our Municipal Theater. Neither does it coincide with the opinions of those who, like the writer, have heard admirable renditions in English of the greatest operas by such American organizations as the Kellogg-Carey, Emma Abbott, Emma Juch, Thurber, Sheehan, Castle Square, New York Park Theater, the New York Century and others. The writer has also heard equally excellent interpretations in London and Dublin by the Carl Rosa, Meeham, Covent Garden and other companies in the English language. In fact, no European country will tolerate opera in any language but the vernacular excepting in cases of the greatest artists who do not speak the language. For that reason these artists circulate the familiar tangle about the unmelodiousness of English and the superiority of r-rolling Italian, nasal French and guttural German. These dictums are repeated by people who do not know when a singer is off the key, whether the voice-quality is good or bad, or whether the score is being mutilated to suit the singer's incapacity. All dialogue is sung in grand opera and is a tedious bore without understanding of its meaning, and the same is true of everything else sung except the melodious arias.

The writer has heard most of the famous operas, beginning with Minnie Hauk and including Emma Calve, the greatest of all. The polyglot version sung at our Municipal Theater was a travesty. The soprano sang in English, the tenor in Italian, the baritone in French and a dramatic soprano struggled with the lyric role of Micaela, utterly unsuited to her voice or style. The original libretto of "Carmen" is French. Miss Jaxon, who sang in clearly enunciated English, received and deserved most of the applause.

Grand opera, to be successful in English, requires the artistic and business brains of a Col. Savage of Castle Square memory. JEFF MACKAY.

A Difference of Opinion.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

APPROPOS the editorial in the Post-Dispatch Aug. 31 in answer to the letter from the Agora Alumnae Class of the Maplewood Baptist Church, I would say that I feel you have entirely mistaken the intent of the letter. I do not believe that any of us objects to having the truth printed about prohibition, but I for one do seriously object to the verbal and printed statements made by anti-prohibitionists to the effect that prohibition is the cause of all the crime of today, or words to that effect.

It has not been so many years ago when we had no eighteenth amendment, but I can remember murders, thefts, wife and child beatings, and together with other crimes, many of which were caused by drink, and yet today the same crimes are said to be caused by the lack of drink. As to prohibition, knowing as I do that there are many in the world who have once contracted the drink habit, are unable to escape from its toils even though they may desire to do so, I stand with Paul in saying, "If meat (liquor) make my brother to offend, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to offend," which I take it is the spirit Christ wished to inculcate in his followers the world over. A. H.

Hicks vs. City Slickers.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

NOTICED a suggested slogan in your paper some time ago which branded the residents of the county as "hicks." Maybe so, but we hicks are just as good as those so-called city slickers. The assertion that that rabid St. Louisian and the publication of same in your paper leads me to offer the following:

Lazy man's golf links,
18 holes in 15 feet.

In almost any St. Louis street.

Probably the city fathers plan to turn all the county roads into golf links for lazy men. We don't plan to give them a chance. APATHY.

Someone Erred.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

MY name as vice president in connection with reorganization of the Democratic party in St. Louis was used without my knowledge or consent. I have always voted the Republican ticket excepting in a few instances where I supported an individual candidate outside that ticket. JOHN RING JR.

Leopold Street.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

RECENTLY a huge fence was built across this pioneer street just west of the Mo. Pac. R. R. tracks. Inconsistent with the present traffic ideals and the ever-increasing demand for more and wider streets, this thoroughfare is now closed.

It was the only artery from Broadway to the river, between Miller and Barton street, a distance of 12 blocks. Who sanctioned this, and why?

THE CALLES MESSAGE.

President Calles' message to the new Mexican Congress can hardly be called a state paper. It sounds like a Sunny Jim effusion. We do not know how it was received in Mexico, but elsewhere it must have caused amazement. Mr. Calles asks the world to believe that all is serene in Mexico. The religious situation is disposed of as a slight disturbance which foreign countries have magnified out of all proportion, but which has occasioned slight commotion at home. This in the face of the fact that the Catholic Church has practically ceased to function in Mexico, that the clergymen of all denominations are in effect regarded by the Government as suspect and subjected to an espionage which is ordinarily associated with the police power's surveillance of criminals. In the face of the further fact that this religious persecution has already brought about a boycott, or a buying strike, that has seriously affected business and is causing grave apprehension.

The discussion of this subject in the President's message is lacking in candor and honesty and is disappointingly wanting in statesmanship.

A similar judgment may be pronounced on the President's treatment of the land and petroleum laws and his superficial review of the American Government's indignation over the policy of confiscation which the Carranza Constitution embodied and which both the Obregon and Calles administrations were determined to carry out. Every American citizen at all conversant with the facts in this issue knows that the tension at one time had almost reached the breaking point. Everybody knows, too, that had either Obregon or Calles persisted in their purpose diplomatic relations would have been suspended. Everybody knows of the negotiations conducted by the two Governments on this question, of the services rendered by Charles B. Warren in the capacity of "Special Ambassador," and the final renunciation by Mexico of her lacerous designs.

The impression the Calles message seeks to convey is that all this was a slight misunderstanding; that it was never the intent of the Mexican Government to defraud an American or any other foreign investor of legitimately acquired rights; that a few individual instances which required special adjustment were happily settled; that no fundamental economic principle was involved.

The only comment such a report requires is this: If the Calles message is as disingenuous of the facts in the review of the religious situation as it is of the facts in the land and petroleum controversy it is an unreliable presentation of Mexican affairs. Meantime, another complication presents itself. Mexican business men are reported in an Associated Press dispatch this morning to be alarmed at the prospect of radical labor legislation. Profit-sharing is stressed as a feature of the proposal, with labor committees empowered to decide on the share of the profits to be awarded the workers. Some of the provisions of the bill are wholesome and in accord with our own practice, but the measure, if passed in its present form, it is asserted, will impose intolerable burdens on industry. The Calles administration is said to be in sympathy with the bill.

Mexico, as painted by President Calles, is a land of peace and plenty, with problems, of course, but with all the signs auspicious and every prospect pleasing. Mexico, as revealed by the facts, is in turmoil, distress and anxiety and urgently in need of courageous leadership tempered by judgment and by a decent respect for the realities and the cherished sentiments of a people that has learned about everything in the book of tyranny and must be thoughtfully inducted into the responsibility of liberty.

President Calles gives scant evidence of such leadership in his latest message.

BEN WELCH, YIDDISH HERO.

There is a battle we all must fight. It lasts through life. Some go through it almost unscathed. Others are sorely wounded by the unseen forces of nature that are our hourly opponents. Some of these victims cry and faint. Others put up a bold front and defy the enemy, laugh at his assaults, and die facing him, with bloody head, perhaps, but unbowed.

Of such heroic mold was Ben Welch, Yiddish comedian, who has just succumbed to fate's deadliest blows and died, joking almost to the last moment, with that high courage with which, after he went blind, he continued to play his part on the stage as if nothing had happened. Gay and merry as ever, it was some time before his blindness was made public, when he laughed and boasted that it made a good story, "which ought to pack the house."

Who, among thousands, suffering such a visitation, could be found to duplicate his action in telling the Mayor of Providence, who was on the stage on a certain night, to touch a match to an insurance policy that would have paid Welch $75 a week, keeping him in comfort for the rest of his life? As the paper went up in smoke, Welch gayly said: "I'm free-free to make my plans as in other days. No gloom for me, no benefits. I shall go on as before."

There was heroic stuff in this jester.

A NEW RUBBER SOURCE.

A dispatch from Capetown, via London, states that a method has been discovered by which rubber can be produced from the sap of the African euphorbia tree, and that a South African company is preparing to exploit the yield of 40,000,000 trees in the East London district. The rubber so produced is said to equal the best from the Para district of Brazil.

If this news turns out to be true it will not only mean that a new and plentiful source of rubber has been found, but may mean that the United States will be able to raise much of its needed rubber within its own boundaries. This is suggested by the fact that the East London district of South Africa, where these euphorbia trees flourish, is not subtropical. Although its summers are hot, the mean temperature at Capetown, almost in the same latitude, is 62 degrees. The climate is said to be pleasant and healthy.

The euphorbia family of plants, to which these South African trees belong, is large and varied, many species being found in the United States. The rubber-producing trees, however, do not appear to have been introduced here. If the climate will suit them, as seems probable, they would be a valuable addition

ON TAXING THE ST. CHARLES BRIDGE.

On the heels of the laudable transaction by which the anachronism of a toll bridge at St. Charles is in process of correction, the State Tax Commission has tentatively increased by $100,000 the bridge's valuation for taxation purposes. A hearing will be held tomorrow by the State Tax Commission, at which the St. Charles Bridge Committee will go farther than to protest against this increase. It will contend that the bridge be relieved of all taxes on the ground that since Aug. 1 the St. Charles Bridge has been a part of the State highway system.

The argument against taxation will be buttressed by a clause in the agreement between the bridge owners and the bridge committee which provides that all money saved on taxes shall go to the general sinking fund to advance the acquisition of the bridge for free public use. It will be remembered that this sinking fund is made up principally of tolls now being collected on the bridge, and that the toll system will be continued until it accumulates the purchase price of the bridge.

We applauded the transfer of the St. Charles Bridge from private to public ownership. The method employed may not be an ideal one, but it has the strong virtue of accomplishing a very desirable end. Henceforth taxes on the bridge will only increase the public burden and defer the time when the bridge is to be opened to traffic free of charge. The release of the bridge, from taxation, conversely, will lighten the public burden without putting one cent in the pockets of the bridge's private owners.

We should be less than logical not to express the conviction that the arguments against taxation are sound and valid, and the hope that the State Tax Commission will so consider them.

A KICK UPSTAIRS?

A political situation that increases the likelihood of Democratic control of the next Senate has arisen in Oregon. Senator Robert N. Stanford, defeated for the Republican nomination, has announced that he will run as an independent candidate. He will oppose his successful rival in the Republican primary, Frederick Steiwer, and the Democratic nominee, Bert E. Haney.

Haney is a man of parts. President Coolidge tried to force him off the Shipping Board, saying that he had violated an agreement on which the President had conditioned his appointment. Haney denied there had been an agreement, and declined to get off. He later resigned in his own good time.

With Stanford making a third in the race, Haney appears to have a first-rate chance of election. The action of the President in the Shipping Board affair may give the Democrats a majority in the next Senate. Stranger things have happened in politics.

THE HOCUS-POCUS OF THE LAW.

We are puzzled by legal mathematics. Consider, for example, this equation:

Life plus 99 years equals 11 years 3 months. In 1924 Loeb and Leopold pleaded guilty to the charges of kidnapping and murdering a little boy, Bobby Franks. Because of the many sensational aspects of the case, the attention of the nation was focused on it, and there was much debate as to the punishment that should be inflicted for the commission of this peculiarly revolting crime. Judge Caverly, after hearing long and tortuous arguments in mitigation of the youths' guilt, sentenced them to a lifetime term in the penitentiary for the murder and to a 99-year term for the kidnapping.

Now Hinton C. Claiborne, State Supervisor of Paroles, says that Loeb and Leopold will be eligible for parole in 1935, after serving 11 years and 3 months. It is interesting to see how he arrives at this figure. First, he says that the two sentences must run concurrently, in the absence of judicial specification that they should run consecutively. Next, if the life term is considered the longer one, Leopold and Loeb will be eligible for parole after 30 years and 3 months. If the 99-year term governs, 33 years is parole time. By subtracting time granted for good behavior and by the merit system of awards, he whittles the terms down to 11 years and 3 months from the date of commitment.

Judge Caverly's decision, by its text, gave these criminals life plus 99 years. It sounded like a dreadful sentence. But the State Supervisor of Paroles is washing out the dreadfulness.

Claiborne doesn't seem to know which sentence shall be used in determining the date of parole, but he does know that if the kidnapping sentence governs the boys will be required to serve 13 years more than if the murder sentence is applied.

There is excellent ground for the granting of time off for good behavior and for merit. But by what process does the board reduce a life term to the arbitrary figure of 20 years 3 months? How does it explain the paradox that a sentence of 99 years is longer than a life sentence? If the 99-year sentence is the more severe one, why did the Judge apply it to the lesser crime? Since to sentence a man for life has become a fiction, why don't Judges, parole experts and the other intellectuals who determine these things say what they mean?

The only answer to these questions we can think of is that the law, supposedly the distillation of the reason of the ages, is as full of hocus-pocus and mummery as a circus sideshow. And a good many lawyers are peculiarly happy when they are confounding the laity with the voodooism of the profession.

AN UNENVIABLE LEADERSHIP.

It is not an enviable place which this city holds in a table of motor-car fatalities issued by the Department of Commerce. Figures for 65 cities, covering the first 35 weeks of this year, show an average death rate of 18.4 for each 100,000 of population. In St. Louis the rate was 23. Nor is any comfort to be derived from a specific comparison with cities of about the same or larger size. The rate in Baltimore was 18.1; in Detroit, 15.7; in Chicago, 24.9; in Cleveland, 18.1; in Boston, 22.2; in New York, 15.6; in Philadelphia, 13.6—all lower than the rate in St. Louis.

Most, if not all, of these cities have traffic problems fully as difficult as ours. How are we to account for our higher death rate? Why should human life apparently be so much safer on the streets of Boston, for example, than those of St. Louis? Have Boston and the other cities in the list a better code of regulations than ours? Or do they enforce their laws more stringently? The questions raised by the Department of Commerce statistics ought to engage the earnest attention of every city official concerned with the safety of the streets. Yes, and of every

SUGGESTION LOOKING TOWARD PEACE.

It is really all right to get a little excited now, since the weather is cooler. What pains us is an interminable argument. And this one about the respective physical prowess of men and women is beginning to hob up. Sooner than listen to that all winter, we'll attend movie shows. Rather than have the human race plagued with pros and cons ad infinitum, we have thought up three, nifty tests which prove that woman is not man's physical equal.

Sharpening a pencil.

Firing a gun without closing the eyes and screaming.

Passing a shop window without looking. Be seated, ladies! We're neutral in this argument. We follow the lead of Montaigne who recorded all the facts and let the reader do his own choosing. We have three tests for the men which also prove whatever is to be proved.

Minding a baby for 15 minutes without swearing, losing the temper or wanting to murder the child.

Threading a needle.

Taking a bath without making as much noise as an elephant.

As soon as all the ladies pass the tests, and all the gentlemen, whatever you wanted to demonstrate has been demonstrated.

OR THEY MIGHT RENAME IT "HIC-CUP."

They say Euripides "Bacchus" was played in Athens for 504 years. It wouldn't play twice in New York unless George Cohan rewrote it, and Shubert or Ziegfeld organized such a chorus as Dionysus never dreamed of—Brisbane's Column. "Today."

Judging from the amount of correspondence about the war debts, what is everybody's business is—everybody's business.

Interest is proportioned to understanding. One hundred people understand a prize fight to one who understands a scientific discovery. This explains the relative amount of space given by newspapers to the two matters, and should forestall at least 957 letters of angry inquiry.

A casual glance at the figures for the value of cosmetics convinces us that the face is somebody's fortune.

One's height and thickness, we are assured, come from the families of both parents. This is not going to prevent fond mothers from believing that Willie inherited his thickness from his father.

Czecho-Slovakia has erected a monument to the Bible. Texas and Tennessee papers please copy.

Mayor Miller, back from his vacation, wishes St. Louis could have a permanent exposition. Well, there are the bridges, the subway, Olive street and, according to some disgruntled critics, the Mayor himself.

If there are any poker players in that Nicaraguan army, we expect them to raze El Bluff.

The only reason we can see now for voting "yes" on Proposition No. 4 is to let

Just-a-Minute: It seems that since the two women conquered the English Channel men's heads do go about about. Witness—the concluding paragraph of an editorial on the annexation question in one of your afternoon competitors:

"The present county form of government, for much of St. Louis County, is an anachronism, and the law-enforcing agency, more than anything else, makes it so definitely conquered by modern swimmers."

At some time in the future, too, we'll get our debts from France.

O somewhere there's a picnic grounds where flowers still grow wild.

And somewhere there's a realtor whose terms of praise are mild:

O somewhere there's a maiden coy who has not bobbed her hair.

But some one coming to New York without a big parade—

One of the things I hope to see, but will not, I'm afraid!

O somewhere there's a maiden, if the songs who's mine for better or for worse—I know she'll be deceived.

For some one comes to lonely ones, or so the songs all state.

I understand to struggle's vain; resigned am I to fate.

O somewhere there's a maiden who is doomed to change my life.

To mend my box and careless ways—in short, to be my wife.

But some one coming to New York for whom no fuss is made—

One of the things I hope to see, but will not, I'm afraid!

O somewhere there's a paper and it pleases all who read.

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to represent without bias the latest comment by leading publicists, newspapers and publicists on the questions of the day.

THE YANKEE DOODLE SPIRIT.

From the Wilmington Evening News.

IN OUR embassies and legations in foreign lands, the policy, as laid down by the State Department, is that American furnishings shall not be discriminated against, but that when the desired furnishings "cannot be reasonably secured in the country" they may be purchased abroad.

Thus we find patriotism mingled with the Star-Spangled Banner, mixed with the words of '76, not to mention tangled up with Yankee Doodle Doo. This is, in effect, a demonstration of 100 per cent Americanism. But when we stop to consider the subject of furnishings, it comes including architecture, we cannot help wonder at what point we must start in our chauvinistic crusade. For example, there is our Colonial architecture—some of it coming from England and a great deal of it coming from Italy and Greece, not to mention from France. Again consider our 100 per cent centers buy antiquities and foreign antiques—with which to furnish their homes. And even our own antiques are foreign in design, from tallboys to dining room tables, not to mention Queen Anne chairs and Georgian stools.

From faraway Turkey and Persia they come and are laid upon our floors, the homes of our 100 per centers. What a thrill it must be to be able to boast of having a genuine Turkish rug. And too, there are our silken fabrics of various kinds, from curtain to shawl to gown, come to us from Japan and China. And these furnishings of a kind, for the ladies at any rate? But why continue with these observations. Don't the Battle Creek mattress makers and the magnates in our furniture-making and carpet-making centers have to make their bread and butter much for manufacturers of another kind through the magic of O. P. protective tariff could ill afford to overlook an opportunity to protect the rugs and the chairs and the tables and the beds which are labeled "Made in the U. S. A."

COMPOSER MASCAGNI BALKS AT VISITING U. S.

At Last Minute He Refuses to

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Once more Pietro Mascagni, turbulent composer, whose fortune and fame were made by his first opera, "Cavalleria Rusticana," appears to have withdrawn at the last moment before sailing to this country, to which 24 years ago he swore never to return.

Mascagni had been sought by Fortune Gallo to travel from Italy to open the season of the San Carlo Opera Co. at the Century Theatre, Sept. 12, with the first American performance of his opera, "Il Piccolo Marat," his most successful since "Rusticana." After negotiations since early in July, his appearance here seemed settled. Mascagni was to have sailed from Italy Aug. 28. A suite for himself, his wife and the Italian tenor, Eduardo Papania, whom he had insisted should be employed to sing the principal role, had been taken by Gallo. An Italian laundress had been employed here to care for Signor Mascagni's shirt, the ruin of which on his last trip caused him great anguish. Collected $8000 in Advance.

The orchestration and the color plates of costumes of "Il Piccolo Marat" had been purchased in Italy and received here. Plans to enlarge the orchestra to meet the composer's requirements had been made. The first payment of $8000 of the total of $15,000 he was to receive for conducting 11 performances here of his operas, had been cabled to Gallo's agent in Milan.

Everything in fact was ready when, yesterday, Gallo received a cable. It was from the agent, Attilio Tremontano. He notified Gallo that Mascagni had made a new demand. It was that Gallo should guarantee him against "judicial proceedings" while in the United States.

The demand related to Mascagni's adventures here in 1902, when he was arrested half a dozen times, chased by process servers where he went, and charged with debts.

"Also," said Gallo, "it had to do with judgments against him for previous occasions when he contracted to come to this country and then failed to show up. When I sent the cable I sent an answer according to the proposal. Then I sent another, a sweeping one, accepting all the conditions he had made in previous messages. I went to Lee Shubert and to George Tyler and obtained from them releases from the judgments against Mascagni since the trouble they had with him in 1911."

But Mascagni Did Not Sail.
Once again everything seemed settled. But there came a cable Tuesday from Tremontano, announcing that Mascagni had not sailed on the boat on which he was scheduled to leave and added "will try to fix matters up." But no explanation was given why the composer had not sailed.

Gallo was still hopeful Mascagni would sail today on a liner from Italy or by way of France, enabling him to get here in time to open the second week of the opera company's season instead of the first. But other musical producers did not share Gallo's optimism.

"They told me," said Gallo, "I was taking on something everybody had got into trouble with, when I got Mascagni. Well, if he doesn't come—" Gallo shrugged. "I don't need him. We've been producing operas for 20 years without him and I guess we can still struggle along. But I think he'll come."

When Friday was Reserved for Women

BACK in 1847 when the Boatmen's first opened its doors for business, it published this notice of policy: "On Fridays no males will be admitted, this day being expressly set apart by the Trustees for the female community."

Although, of course, Fridays are no longer reserved for the "female community," from that day to this Boatmen's has given especial attention to the accounts of women.

W. S. HART'S WIFE SAID TO HAVE JOINED DIVORCE COLONY

Trust Agreement With Movie Actor Gives Her $100,000, If She Gets Decree.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 3.—The Examiner says Winifred Westover Hart, estranged wife of William S. Hart of the movies, has joined the Reno divorce colony. Friends are quoted as having stated she will remain in Reno until she obtains a decree. She is accompanied by her mother and young son, William S. Hart Jr.

The Harts were married late in 1921, but a rift soon appeared. The birth of a son failed to reconcile the pair, and they separated. A contract was drawn up in which Hart created two trust funds, one for his wife and the other for his boy. Mrs. Hart was to receive the income from $100,000 and William Jr. the income from $100,000. A proviso enjoined Mrs. Hart from entering the films. A clause in the trust agreement specified that in the event Mrs. Hart should obtain a divorce, the $100,000 held in trust would be turned over to her in cash, providing she had lived up to her agreement.

TO WHITEN SKIN WITH LEMON JUICE

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quart of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

REVISED TRANSFER SYSTEM ON BUSES STARTS SUNDAY

Passengers May Reach Any Desired Point on Lines for One Fare.

Revised transfer rules on the buses of the People's Motorbus Co. whereby passengers may reach any point on the system with one fare, in some instances involving U-shaped routes on two or more lines, will be inaugurated Sunday.

On boarding a bus, the passenger will state his destination and the conductor will issue a transfer with sufficient coupons to take him there. Conductors will guard against round trips to the point of boarding, but otherwise the transfer privilege will be broad.

The plan will make it possible for a passenger to transfer from a line going in one direction to a line going in the opposite one. Cleveland High School students living in Southampton, for instance, may reach the school on a single fare.

'BOOTLEG KING'S' HOME BOMBED

Morrisstown, N. J., Hospital Patients Thrown Into Panic by Blast.

By the Associated Press.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., Sept. 2.—The former home of Pasquale Mutarello, known as "King of Morris County bootleggers," was destroyed by an explosion and fire today. The estimated damage of $20,000 includes that done to an adjoining house in which three persons were hurt.

A hundred patients in the Morris County Memorial Hospital, nearby, were thrown into panic by the explosion which severed electric wires and cut off all lights. Mutarello was indicted on seven counts in the Morris County liquor scandals which resulted in the conviction of former Prosecutor James Bolitho. He was fined $100 on one of the charges after which he disappeared.

British Aviator and Wife Victims; Mechanician Injured.

By the Associated Press.

LEATHERHEAD, Surrey, England, Sept. 3.—Capt. H. R. Leavey, pilot, and Miss Olive Stone, a parachute jumper, were burned to death, and Arnold Keene, mechanician, was seriously burned when a small airplane, in which they were flying from Biggleswade, London, crashed near here yesterday.

Miss Stone was on her way to London to give stunt performances at Crystal Palace. The plane, flying low, apparently because of fog, fell on a farm a blazing mass.

ST. LOUIS COUNTY FAIR OPENS DESPITE RAIN

Recurring Showers Retard Completion of Exhibits at Creve Coeur Lake.

Handicapped by recurring thunder showers, which delayed installation of exhibits and held down the attendance, the opening of the twenty-seventh annual St. Louis County Fair at Upper Creve Coeur Lake yesterday was not as impressive as its organizers had expected.

However, during the afternoon with the rain clouds hidden away for a time, a valiant effort was made to entertain the small crowd that appeared. Enough exhibits were ready to provide an interesting hour and two races, for mules and ponies, each with a $100 purse, gave another hour's entertainment on the race track. An unexpected thrill was offered when a wealthy cynical woman who had pitched a tent and offered the secrets of the future for a silver coin.

The midway was decked out with all the things that go to make an old-time county fair. Hissing popcorn and "hot-dog" stands, balloon and whistle vendors, and a swart cynical woman who had pitched a tent and offered the secrets of the future for a silver coin.

Home Products Popular.

Branching off from the midway were tents and booths still resounding to the thump of hamsmers. Fair officers declared that the tardy exhibitors would be ready for business today.

The domestic department, in which county housewives compete with such varied products as quilts, bedspreads, home-made soap, dolls, sofa pillows, cakes and home-baked bread, was as in previous years, a popular booth.

There are exhibits of apples, grapes, peaches, plums, pears and potatoes; hogs, cattle, horses and mules; poultry, pigeons, rabbits and sheep, as well as a booth for flowers.

Parachute Jumping.

On the race track today are a girls' half-mile race, a pony race and a one-mile dash for mules, with purses totaling $230. Horseshoe pitching contests open to all corners are held daily and an orchestra holds forth continuously in the dance hall.

Saturday and Sunday are to be the big days of the fair. A flyer, Royal Wilson of Ferguson, and a parachute jumper will perform stunts both afternoons, and heavier purses will be given at the race track. Monday, the closing day, prizes will be awarded in all classes of competition and exhibition.

CITIZENS MOVE TO BUILD SEWER

Favor Bond Issue for Landowne Project on East Side.

The Landowne community, a part of East St. Louis with Fairmont City and Washington Park, incorporated villages, and Rome-mont, an unincorporated district, have agreed to circulate petitions for a special bond issue election to raise funds to construct a $450,- 000 sewer system for this entire district. Representatives of the communities affected met last night at the Jefferson School in East St. Louis and determined upon specifications for the sewer.
It will cover an area of about eight square miles and will empty into the Mississippi River.

AMERICAN FLYING OVER ANDES

Lieut. Doolittle Starts Chile-Argentina Trip Despite Injuries.

By the Associated Press.
SANTIAGO, Chile, Sept. 2.—
Lieut. James H. Doolittle, American aviator, hopped off today for Buenos Aires, Argentina. The flight is difficult because of the necessity of crossing the Andes.

Lieut. Doolittle's ankles were broken in a recent fall in Chile and is still forced to use crutches. A dispatch telling of his plans last week said he was unable to walk more than a half mile, and in case he should be forced down in the Andean region his only chance of escape would depend on someone's finding him.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Two rob-when they discovered he was not ly settled district where, after rob-their automobile when they learned he did not have the ring.

Then they fired at him three times, one shot hitting him in the

SHRINE FOR AIRMEN DEDICATED

Portuguese Aviators at Cardinal's Consecration Service.

LISBON, Sept. 2.—"Our Lady of the Air" has been installed and consecrated as the Patron Saint of the aviators of Portugal. It is a beautiful image of the Virgin Mary, with arms uplifted toward heaven, and it stands in a tiny chapel erected for it in the Cintra Aviation Camp. The ceremonies of installation and consecration were performed in the presence of Cardinal Helle, head of the Catholic church in Portugal, representatives of the Government and several members of the diplomatic corps.

The image is not the ancient one sung by Portuguese poets, which for many hundreds of years has stood on the warmest altar in a small chapel among the airmen of North Portugal. The aviators desired to bring this ancient statue to their camp, but the people in the villages in the mountains, armed with pickaxes, scythes and sticks, surrounded the chapel and had the alarm sounded from the bellies of all the churches for miles around. The airmen, therefore, were forced to abandon their plans and secure another image, far more beautiful but less historic for their shrine on the flying field.

WETS OPPOSE LENROOT

Liquor Stand Unsatisfactory, Says Plea for Gov. Blaine.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—An appeal for support of Gov. Blaine, in the Wisconsin Republican senatorial primaries has been issued by W. B. Stanton, chairman of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment.

"It appears that this action on the part of the national association was predicted upon the unsatisfactory official record of Senator Lenroot," (Blaine's opponent), a statement said, "and upon the further ground that his response to inquiry as to his attitude upon the wet and dry issue is evasive and wholly unsatisfactory; while, on the other hand, the response of Gov. Blaine is entirely satisfactory."

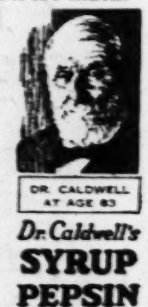

Leave it to Mother what's Best

"WHEN I received a sample bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin I gave it to my two-months-old baby without hesitation, as I had often heard of it as the very best medicine for children. It stopped crying right away, began sleeping good and growing fast. For myself it has been the very best stomach and laxative medicine and I can't praise it too much." (Name and address will be furnished upon request.)

Children Thrive as They Grow

Mothers never tire telling how children thrive on it; how it puts an end to bilious, sour stomach, stops headache, cleans bowels, no pain, no gripe. Just like a nurse in the family, never any real sickness. Stops Mother's terrible sick headache, ends Dad's bilious attack, makes peaceful the lives of old folks. A real family medicine for the daily ills due to constipation. Get it today and have it handy, always. Sold by all druggists.

For a free trial bottle send name and address to: Pepsin Syrup Company, Monticello, Illinois.

Mother of Nine Is Vice-Chairman Of Democratic City Committee

Rosy, Blue-Eyed Mrs. Peter H. Hogan Belies in Appearance the 58 Years She Admits.

By MARGUERITE MARTIN.

THE recently elected vice-chairman of the Democratic City Committee, Mrs. Peter H. Hogan, is the mother of nine children. Four are married and there are eight grandchildren.

Five of the children, of whom the youngest is 15, reside at the home, a flat, No. 3867 Cleveland avenue. Every Sunday father, mother, children, grandchildren, sons and daughters-in-law sit down to a midday dinner together. Sunday evening other relatives, friends and connections are likely to drop in for a cold supper.

There never has been a death or serious illness in the immediate family. Only one child ever has left this city for any length of time, the one who enlisted in the A. E. F. and was wounded in the Argonne.

But do not think because of this manifest success in the domestic sphere that the new local leader of women Democrats is one-sided or unfitted for her public task. Besides rearing nine children in such a way that the family bond remains singularly close and unbroken and besides receiving the unanimous vote for leadership of a group not always noted for unanimity and harmony, Mrs. Hogan has been active in public service for many years, has been or is now an officer in nine or more organizations.

Active in Social Service.

They are church, charity, labor, temperance and political organizations. She is a member of the Board of Directors of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women; vice president of the Officers' Association of the Women's Auxiliary of the Knights of Father Mathew; prefect of the Ladies' Sodality of St. Margaret's Parish; chairman of the Catholic Women's Sick-Visiting Committee of the Infirmary.

She was the first secretary of the old Knights of Labor and secretary of the Daughters of St. Crispin, an organization for the betterment of women shoeworkers. She has been twice committeewoman of the Fifteenth Ward and now is vice chairman of the Democratic City Central Committee.

A woman of parts, truly, but the parts are so inseparable, so overlap each other, that it is hard to tell where one interest begins and the other ends.

In her own way, she explains the philosophy which has brought her to her present status. "I can be a good mother, a good wife, a good mother and a good wife," said Mrs. Hogan, "but a woman is not as good and intelligent and unselfish as a wife and mother and as efficient a housewife as she might be unless she includes mothering other women's children, tries to improve conditions in which her husband and children go forth to work and the environment in which her home and those of other families is situated."

Always Rocked Her Babies.

In appearance, Mrs. Hogan is a plump matronly little figure. You can believe her when she says, "I always rocked my babies. It may be bad for the babies. The theorists say it is. But it is good for the mothers. Many a time when my husband has left the house in a huff I have been able to get all right with him and with the world by feeling my baby nestling against my heart. It gives one time for meditation. I believe there would be fewer divorces if more women would rock their babies."

Probably active association with younger people has kept her young. Certainly her spontaneity, her rosy cheeks, the upturned lines of her face, her merry blue eyes and naturally curly hair, belie the 58 years to which she lays claim.

The gift of eloquence, so often the heritage of the sons and daughters of Erin, no doubt has contributed to her success as a group leader. Her education has been largely in the school of experience, abetted by a great love for reading without too select a taste.

Once a Shoe Worker.

It was when she was a worker herself in a shoe factory that she became interested in improving labor conditions. Thirty-five years ago she went with the first detachment to Jefferson City to plead for a shorter work day and better conditions for women in industry. It was when as the wife of a struggling contractor she lived in a downtown district she saw the effects of liquor upon the families of the poor that "heres filled on Saturday night for father's case of beer, while all week there had been no food for the children's milk"—that she became interested in temperance and became a charter member of the first Catholic temperance society in this city.

It was when her husband had grown more prosperous and they could move to a better neighborhood that she selected the "Shaw addition" because it was restricted against saloons.

She Learned About Proxies from Him.

It is continued and consistent sincerity of purpose, along these lines which finally has led to her choice, not so much by machine politicians as by the reform element which while the party has no jobs to parcel out, is able to inject its influence, that she has come to her latest triumph.

All unwittingly it was that the machine permitted her to get a foothold. When woman suffrage was first established there had to be committeewoman in each ward. A neighbor who was committeewoman, seeing Mrs. Hogan's talents for leadership and organization, had her elected, and delegated to the State convention. Having selected her, he was prepared to dictate her course. She need not really attend the convention, but just let him have her proxy. When she expressed surprise at this he told her women delegates would be superfluous, out of place and really an embarrassment, since there was no money provided to pay their expenses.

It would be a pleasure to have the ladies along, of course, but the men couldn't think of putting them to that discomfort. The convention city would be crowded. Men would be sleeping several in a room and it was now too late to make hotel reservations for women.

Every persuasive argument was used and no attention whatever paid to protestations, so this woman delegate waited until after the crowded special Pullmans had departed and journey forth the next day alone.

Her First Convention.

At the convention men delegates still gallantly sought to relieve the women of every responsibility, even that of voting. Mrs. Hogan was told to go ahead and enjoy herself sight-seeing.

But she didn't.

She remained at the convention through all the sessions which continued almost without intermission night and day. If there were no hotel accommodations she never became aware of the lack. She did not have a chance to unpack her bag. Brought her nightgown back without having ever unfolded it.

She cast her vote according to the unit rule of the delegation when she happened to be in accord with it but when she disagreed she announced her preference as a delegate waited until after the crowded special Pullmans had departed and journey forth the next day alone.

GROCERIES Home Economics FOOD

Grape Pie.

City folks seldom know the knack of making grape pie, which is one of the most highly valued desserts in the rural districts. A new version of grape pie is grape cream pie, which is made of 1½ cups grape pulp which has been prepared by removing skins from grapes and the remaining pulp cooked in the stew pan for five minutes. At the end of five minutes simmering, remove the pulp and strain through strainer to remove seeds. Add the skins, which, added to the pulp, should measure about 1½ cups. Mix together two cups of sugar, a pinch of salt and two tablespoons of flour. When well blended add two eggs, well beaten, and one tablespoon melted butter and the grape pulp. Line a pie pan with pastry. Pour in the grape custard. Either cover with meringue or else cover with a top crust.

Tomato Appetizer.

Take three small tomatoes, six lettuce leaves, one-half cup sardine or anchovy paste, one-half cup tomato catsup, one green pepper and three stuffed olives. Cut tomatoes in halves and place each half on a lettuce leaf; spread with sardine or anchovy paste and pour 1 tablespoon of catsup over all. Garnish with rings of green pepper and slices of stuffed olives placed in the center.

Oven-fresh from Battle Creek!

Post Toasties are Double-Crisp and Double-Good because they're Double-Thick

Three wrappings guard the flavor and oven crispness of Post Toasties. Double-Thick corn flakes. They come oven-fresh to your table in the red and yellow package.

Post Toasties are made from the hearts of carefully selected white corn. These corn hearts are flaked Double-Thick, then toasted to golden crispness.

Each golden crisp flake is packed with the natural flavor of the corn. Try Post Toasties now and know their Double-Crispness, their Double-Goodness. Make the Milk or Cream Test and learn how delicious corn flakes can really be!

How to make the Milk or Cream Test:

The Milk or Cream Test has taught thousands the luxury of Double-Thick corn flakes. Now make this test yourself and be convinced. Get some Post Toasties at your grocer's or send for free test package. Open the red and yellow packages and shower some of the Double-Thick flakes into a bowl, adding milk or cream to taste.

Now test Post Toasties critically for crispness and flavor. The first spoonful will delight you. You'll marvel at the wonderful flavor, the oven-crispness that lasts until the final flake has vanished from the bottom of the bowl.

Be sure you get genuine Post Toasties, the original Double-Thick corn flakes. Ask for them by name and look for the red and yellow, wax-wrapped package that wears the Post Health Products Seal.

Post Toasties are made from the hearts of carefully selected white corn. These corn hearts are flaked Double-Thick, then toasted to golden crispness.

I have shopped and shopped and compared and I know that I get better quality and save money by buying at Piggly Wiggly. The prices are uniformly lower and I am not pestered to death by some clerk trying to sell me something I do not want. I like to take my own time and the open shelves suggest new dishes and then I can pick out the very fruits I want.

The Piggly Wiggly way of shopping is the most satisfactory and most economical.

D LABOR DAY

We're going to blow our horn a little bit about our new building "out in the sticks." When we started building this institution it really was discouraging, and every solitary person I came in contact with threw cold water on my proposition, and this still made it look gloomier. My best friends, "even my wife," discouraged me—but I went ahead just the same. I had retired from business three years ago and said, "I was done." "I thought I was," but that hunger and longing for excitement came back to me. The result was this wonderful building at a cost of more than Two Hundred Thousand Dollars. BUT YOU SHOULD WORRY. Let competitors do the worrying. We still have time for a little social game of Pinochle. Bid 350 and get set—"Das macht nix aus." If we can't make it "we pay." "Ist das recht, Meine Frau?" We'll sell groceries and meats and vegetables—and cook and serve you good, tender, juicy steaks and Spring chickens in our clean, sanitary dining room and do everything we can to make you feel at home and enjoy yourselves. So bring your Card Parties out—and let us do your worrying. If you do we'll promise you there won't be any worrying done. THIS IS THE ONLY PLACE OF ITS KIND IN THE WHOLE UNITED STATES where the masses of the people may come—and come just as you are. You don't have to be a "Count or King" to visit this home-loving institution—where you can bring the kiddies with their everyday clothes—and mamma with her "Bungalow Apron"—and "Daddy" without his collar. As we say, come out as you are, bring "Grandpa" and "Grandma," "Uncle" and "Auntie," "Cousin Bill." "You're Welcome—the latchstring is out to all the people."

QUALITY

—Is the password at this store—in fact, they're beginning to call me "Quality Dave"—nowhere in the world can you at any price buy a better quality—no bamboozling—"NO CAMOUFLAGE—no infringing"—"no boasting." "NOTHING But David L. Remley's quality" and Cut Prices. There's just two places in St. Louis where you get the real quality and the real price, and that's at 6th and FRANKLIN and at this store, REMLEY'S NEW ARCADE AND MARKET. "Watch the Scales." "Compare the Quality," AND YOU'LL FIND WE LEAD 'EM ALL.

How Can We Sell at Such Low Prices?

Answer:—Because we eliminate all middlemen's profits. We started our packing plant about 10 years ago on a "shoestring" and kept "plugging and pegging away," and today it's a monument.
Positive, undisputable facts—weekly output: Cattle, 100 to 150; calves, 125 to 250; lambs, according to market conditions; hogs, 300 to 600; sausages, from 6 to 11 tons—and we're growing bigger every day.
Remember, good old St. Louisans and St. Louis Countyans, that we haven't done this on our father's reputation—our brother's reputation—or our uncle's reputation—nor have we boasted about 75 years in business—that some "guy's" ancestors build or somebody else showed 'em how. "No sir-ree, Bob." "Your Uncle Dudley," David L. Remley built this business to what it is today—and he alone, has set the pace and showed 'em how. And furthermore, he's going to "keep on leading"—and that don't mean "mebbe."
ATTRACTIVE PRICES that'll make it worth while for all home-loving economical housewives to take advantage of.

SEASONABLE FRUITS MAKE RICH JELLY

Arrange Now to Make Next Winter's Supply of Fruit Jelly.

Fruits which may be used for jelly-making are apples, crabapples, quinces, currants, grapes and plums. In nearly all cases two cups of sugar to three cups of juice makes a better jelly than the customary proportion of one cup of sugar to one of juice. Either proportion may be used in any of the following recipes.

Jelly test: At the end of time given in recipes, pour one-half teaspoon of jelly syrup on a very cold saucer. Let it stand in cool place for a minute. If it jells, the mixture is done. If not continue cooking and repeat test.

Cover: When jelly has cooled and stiffened pour on melted paraffine to cover. Put on lid or the paper over tops of glasses.

Apple Jelly.
Wipe apples, remove stem and blossom ends and cut in quarters. Put in a preserving kettle and add cold water to come nearly to top of apples. Cover and cook slowly until apples are soft; mash and drain through a coarse sieve. Then allow juice to drip through a double thickness of cheese-cloth or a jelly bag. Avoid squeezing apples, which makes jelly cloudy. Boil 20 minutes and add sugar; boil five minutes, skim and turn in glasses. Put in a sunny window and let stand 24 hours. Cover and keep in a cool, dry place.

Current Jelly.
Pick over currants but do not remove stems; wash and drain. Mash a few in the bottom of a preserving kettle, using a wooden potato masher; continue until berries are used. Cook slowly until currants look white. Strain through a coarse strainer, then allow juice to drip through a double thickness of cheese-cloth or a jelly bag. Measure, bring to boiling-point and boil five minutes; add sugar, boil three minutes, skim and pour into glasses. Place in a sunny window and let stand twenty-four hours. Cover and keep in a cool, dry place.

Quince Jelly.
Follow recipe for apple jelly, using quinces in place of apples, and removing seeds from fruit. Quince parings are often used for jelly, the better part of the fruit being used for canning.

Crab Apple Jelly.
Follow recipe for apple jelly, leaving apples whole instead of cutting in quarters.

Grape Jelly.
Grapes should be picked over, washed and stems removed before putting into a preserving kettle. Heat to boiling point, mash and boil 30 minutes; then proceed as for current jelly.

Tuna Sandwich Loaf.
Cut a loaf of white bread into thick slices lengthwise. Spread one slice with creamed butter and a layer of tuna fish, flaked in bits with a fork and seasoned. Over this place a second layer of buttered bread, cover with slices of tomato and salad dressing, then add a third layer of bread. Weight down for some time and before serving place whole on a platter, surround with leaves of head lettuce, and cover the top with slices of stuffed olives. Slice as needed.

Shredded lettuce may be added with the tomato and dressing instead of placing the whole leaves around the loaf or the dressing placed on the lettuce around the bread instead of on the tomato. This loaf is almost a meal in itself, being a combination of bread and butter, meat, vegetable and relish or of a salad and sandwiches, however one may choose to consider it. For labeling jellies, jams, etc., use adhesive tape and print with ink.

PLANNING MENUS FOR THE COMING WEEK

Try Following Out a Systematic Plan for Cooking Family Food.

Notice that this plan calls for a continuing variety of breads. The old-time bugaboo about white bread is hard to kill, but good authorities are accomplishing much in this direction. This matter of variation holds good in almost any of the food groupings.

Sour cream cake is suggested for one supper because of the fact that this is the season when freshly soured milk or cream often presents itself as an unexpected problem to the housewife. The system of refrigeration may be of help here and may turn perfectly sweet milk into sour. Nor is cake the only way of using the freshly soured milk or cream. Delicious pot cheese or old-fashioned Bonny Clabber are both digestible and nutritious. They are palatable for those who like the flavor of fermented milk.

While iced tea figures frequently in the meals for the week, it is understood that this may, and in fact should, be varied by judicious use of iced fruit beverages of various sorts. The eater at the cafeteria who asked for iced tea that is almost lemonade had a very good dietetic basis for her request. Lemonade is one of the most wholesome of summer beverages and its frequent use, therefore, with or without tea is desirable.

We have continued our endeavor to make the vegetable variation of the week's meals as attractive as possible. There have not been as many vegetable meals presented as during some weeks, but there again as our readers know, by this time, we are following out a systematic plan for varying the week as a whole. It is when serving vegetables that the housewife is most apt to get into a rut. When she has run the changes of mashed or boiled potatoes, beans, carrots and beets, she is apt to think her foods exhausted. A glance at the meals as planned for the week will show that even with a comparatively small number of vegetables, by judicious combinations much is added to the attractiveness of the meals. That they add even more to their food value is now fairly well understood.

Peach Meringue.

Fill the centers of peach halves with nut-meats, cover over with a meringue made of one stiffly beaten egg-white and two tablespoons of sugar. Then brown quickly in the oven and serve.

Canned Plums.

Wash plums, pierce with a fork and pack firmly into clean jars. Make a syrup by boiling together sugar and water in the proportion of one cup sugar to one and one-half cups water for five minutes after the boiling-point is reached. Fill jars to neck with boiling syrup; place scalded rubber in position and adjust lid closely. Process 15 minutes.

If oven method is used place jars in pan, set pan on rack in oven in same position as for baking; then set heat regulator at 250 degrees, light oven and process one hour for quart; forty minutes for pints.

Browns at Home After Losing 14 And Winning

Team Dropped 29 Percent Points on Road Trip—Open Date Today.

As the pennant chasing Cardinals stormed east on their way to foreign fields, George S. Browns shipped quietly to town, glad of a day's rest before resuming play with Chicago Sportsman's Park tomorrow afternoon.

The team had a disastrous trip. Only four games were out of 18 played. Twenty-nine percentage points were lost since the last game played here, on Aug. 1, but the team managed to keep ahead of the Boston Red Sox.

Lack of Pitching Hurt.

Pitching, or the lack of it, was largely responsible for the team's failure to win games. Vangilder and Gaston each pitched one good ball game on the road. Big Van beat Boston, 6 to 1, after only four hits, and Gaston beat Philadelphia, 7 to 1. The other two victories were scored by the power of superior batting by scores of 11-7 and 8-4, the St. Louis pitchers in each case yielding enough runs to lose an ordinary ball game.

Three defeats were suffered by a margin of one run.

Two games will be played Monday afternoon, Labor day, and announced by Business Manager Bill Friel today.

Yesterday, in the final game of the road trip, the Browns lost to the Detroit Tigers after getting a three-run lead and Cobles won out, 6 to 2. Manager Sisler was out of the game.

DAZZLER EASY VICTOR IN BELMONT FEATURE

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Showing liking for the sloping track at Belmont Park yesterday, the Green Stables' Dazzler romped away to the Nassau claiming stakes at 11-5 for 3-year-olds and up.

Laura Dianti of the Belair stud, odds-on favorite, could do no better than second, six lengths behind the winner. Sherman was third, Wampee, the only other starter.

The time was 1:39 1-5.

Storm King won the other starter.

The Lindenhurst purse for 3-year-olds was easy for Captain Pig, the favorite. Compensator was second and Montclair third.

The five and a half furlong race covered in 1:06 2-5, Bonnie Khan won the Bellaire purse for 3-year-old fillies over the same distance.

DEMPESEY IN GOOD CONDITION AND UNWORRIED, EDGREN WRITES

Champion's Hitting Not Yet at Its Best; Timing And Rhythm Are Lacking

Jack, However, Is Lean and Hard; His Condition Is All That It Should Be at This Time — Shows Flashes of His Old Pep and Speed.

By Robert Edgren.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 3.—Jack Dempsey looks as fit as anyone need look three weeks before a world's championship fight. Not that he is like the Dempsey who pawed the ground and battered his sparring partners to a pulp three weeks before winning the championship at Toledo.

In some way that doesn't show on the surface Dempsey is different. He carries no fat. His waist is trim and small and his shoulders wide in proportion and he is a perfect model of a fighter in every way. There is no fat on his face and the flesh of his chin lies close to the bone from the point to the angle of the jaw. He shows the result of faithful and long training. His boxes well, bobs and ducks under blows, stays from side to side and whips in punches with either hand as easily as he ever did.

Yet there is a puzzling difference. Dempsey used to hit as if his muscles were released steel springs that he could not hold back. Today, as I watched him through five rounds with five different boxers, it seemed to me that he hit as if he drove each blow with separate and individual effort. The flashing, spontaneous, explosive punch didn't show, except once or twice. The instinctive timing and rhythm seemed to have been replaced by a distinct muscular effort.

But I will have to watch Dempsey for several days more before I can quite sure how much this is a change in Dempsey and how much a holding back of his natural punch to save a dwindling sparring margin.

Spartan Partners Scarce.

Dempsey is having a tough time getting sparring partners. He has two or three smaller men who can go in and slug with him, and they do; and while Dempsey drops a sharp punch now and then, he does not seem to have the heart to back up his opponent's rush. Except Bill Tate, Dempsey has none of the husky giants he likes to swap blows with in training. He can't get them. It seems every big man in the country who can throw a labor of fists these days, expects to make a fortune in the ring, and won't risk being battered and knocked out as anyone's sparring partner.

Metally, Dempsey is very much the old Dempsey. He jokes around the training camp and shows no sign of worrying over the fight or anything else.

"I see Tunney says he'll knock you out in two rounds," I said to Jack. "How many rounds are you going to take to knock him out?"

Dempsey laughed.

"As many as I need, if I can knock him out," he said. "Gene shows a lot of confidence for a boxing man with a short record. If he talks like that now I wonder how he'd talk if he was champion. I've been holding that old tune for something like seven years, and I don't remember saying yet that I'm going to knock anybody out."

"So Tunney says I'm a gymnast fighter? And I hit my sparring partners too hard? Well, that's the way I try to hit in a fight, and the best way to get the back of anything is to practice it. I'm glad to hear Gene is going

CAVE MAN vs. STUDENT

DEMPESEY IS A CAVE MAN MORE FRANKLY TYPE THAN TUNNEY — HE HAS THE BACK-SLOPING FOREHEAD OF THE NATURAL FIGHTER

DEMPESEY IS OF A TYPE YOU CAN IMAGINE TAKING PART IN THE FIERCE COMBATS OF THE CAVE MEN

light on his sparring partners. That's good news to me."

Here Dempsey jumped up suddenly and called to a friend who was just leaving the dressing room. "Just a minute, Frank," he said. "You're fixing up a story about me. Whatever you do don't put in anything bombastic. Don't have me promising to knock anybody out until you hear me say it, will you?"

Dempsey Not Worried.

Dempsey disclaims any worry over the actions of his former manager, Jack Kearns, or of any other who have been annoying him with suits and threatened suits.

"Several years ago when I had to fight those slacker charges I went through the most heart-breaking experience any man who respects himself can go through," he told a friend in the camp. "I know what it is to be hissed and hated, and to keep quiet and wait for time to bring the truth out. After living through that, these little things don't even annoy me. I did feel a little sore when they grabbed Mrs. Dempsey's car, but when I thought it over even that was a joke."

The champion says he goes to bed every night at 8:30 or 9 o'clock, in his training quarters, and sleeps like a rock until it's time to get up, about half-past 6, for a run on the road. He isn't doing any secret training in camp, as reported.

"I'm rounding into shape with plenty of work here," he says. "and I don't need any more. I've been training a long time, and in three weeks I'll be fit to fight any man I ever met, or Tunney. I don't claim I'll be as good physically as I was at Toledo. That day I was probably in the finest condition of my life, with youth and everything at its highest peak. I may never be quite as good as that again. But I think I know more now, and I'll be in very good shape—better than I've been in any fight since I won the championship. I haven't any idea of being beaten, but if Tunney can beat me he won't be beating any one here. He'll earn the championship if he gets it."

Dempsey's afternoon workout consisted of a round each with Martin Burke, Carpenter, Tilley Herman, Charlie Anderson and Jimmy Brown. Burke boxed a fast round. Carpenter and Herman fought aggressively, and Herman was dropped by a short left hook Senators Buy Pitcher.

By the Associated Press.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 3.—Frank (Pat) Loftus of Scranton, Pa., right hand pitcher who came to the New Haven Eastern League Club from Springfield, has been sold to the Washington Senators. George Weiss, president of the New Haven Club, announced today. Loftus is to report to Washington at the close of the eastern league season near the end of this month.

It May Have Happened.

INTERVIEWS with Hornsby in Chicago quote him as saying that the Cardinals would win the pennant and then beat the Yankees.

That may be more than the customary pre-pennant optimism. A friend of Hornsby's, very close to the leader, only two days ago tried to get down a wager of several hundred dollars that the Cards would win the world's championship. He wanted odds of 4 to 1.

Today the Cardinals are still 3 to 2 to win the pennant, in the big stakes.

You Never Can Tell.

ELIZABETH RYAN, who is only one step removed from the top of the world in women's tennis, today dispels the idea that she will be one of several Americans to turn professional, thus affording Suzanne adequate opposition on her professional tour of the United States.

Miss Ryan declares that "as long as she plays tennis it will be as an amateur."

Which recalls that Eddie Tryon, Colgate's most noted football graduate, once said that he "would not play professional football for $10,000 a game."

Yet today we read in the news that Eddie has signed to play in the back field for Red Grange's team.

They'll all bite if you bait the hook right.

Take Your Seats Early.

TATE arrivals at the Dempsey-Tunney fight Sept. 23, are going to be out of luck. Tunney says he hopes to stop Dempsey in half a round. Dempsey says Tunney won't last three rounds!

They are putting on a bout to follow the main event, apparently fearing that the principals mean what they say. Our guess is that the fears will

WRAY'S COLUMN

Pittsburgh Through?

THREE games back of the Cardinals, the Pirates appear to be through. Only a phenomenal brace on the part of the Pirates pitching corps can surmount the team's increasing and formidable list of doubleheaders, and overcome the handicap won by the Cardinals.

The Pirates have encountered about all the misfortunes a team could run into, at a time when the club should have been working without friction. It has lost in turn Carey, Adams, Wright, Aldridge and others; it has lost in internal harmony, and it has been burdened with overwork when it needed rest.

At this writing, it appears that the Reds MUST close the gap on the Cardinals during the present series, or conceded an almost insuperable advantage to the St. Louis club.

After Pittsburgh, only a joy ride awaits the Cardinal team, seemingly.

Behind the Times.

WASHINGTON is about 10 years behind the times. Its concrete stadium, the first built in the United States, is today the tiniest unit in a major university. It seats 8500 persons and has been in existence for 22 years.

However, because of football inferiority it has sufficed to seat all who cared to attend Washington's games, except when it played Missouri or St. Louis University.

Contrast this with Illinois, where they seat 75,000 persons and get $3.50 for a big game! Time to start the concrete mixer, Mr. Hadley.

GREG DECLINES BOUT WITH BERLENBACH AND SHOW IS CANCELED

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The prospective bout between Harry Greb, former world's middleweight champion, and Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia at Ebbett's Field, Brooklyn, for Sept. 11, is off indefinitely. Greb, who replaced Paul Berlenbach on the card, notified Promoter Humbert Fugazy today that he would be unable to box next week.

Falling to find a suitable opponent for Loughran, Fugazy cancelled the card.

Grid Men at Washington U. Begin Training

Individuals Conditioning Themselves Before Practice Starts, Sept. 15.

While Missouri Valley football regulations ban all official gridiron practice until Sept. 15, pioneers of the Washington University grid squad are beginning to drift in for an active conditioning in preparation of the intensive grind to begin two weeks hence.

Although classes do not convene until Sept. 23, more than a third of the 1926 spring squad has already put in appearance at Francis Field where the individual schedule of the candidates call for from 300 yards to five miles of road work. In addition to the running, by which the aspirants are shedding all traces of summer softness, daily tilts on the wrestling mat and with the padded gloves are part of the program.

Freshmen Also Report.

The majority of the first-spring eleven of last spring have arrived and most of the remainder have signified their intentions of arriving within the next several days. Included in the daily workouts there are also at present a small group of newly registered freshmen who are rounding into trim for a stiff program under Coach Johnny Davis.

Among the varsity men is Capt. Robert Mahan, halfback, whose broken back running featured the backfield performances of last year's Washington squad. Another veteran backfield ace who has donned a training outfit is Walter A. Hayes, quarterback.

Two line-smashers of pounce, either of whom may be called upon for service at tackle or fullback and who may alternate at the two positions, are Ted Whittier and Tike Collins. Whittier's additional forte, long-distance punts, may call him to the offensive fullback berth while Collins, the latter leads the defensive fullback allotment because of his demonstrated ability to back up the line successfully.

Weights 240, Stands 6 Feet 7 Inches.

Two of the three seekers for the center berth have already put in their appearance. Choice Edkins, who learned his tactics in Arkansas and Clarence Brown, one of the three Brown brothers of Marion, Ill., all of whom are trying hard for varsity places. The largest one of the brothers, Frank, who weighs 240 pounds and stands six feet, seven inches, will try for guard, the same position to which Otto Stuchols, another hulking candidate aspires.

Other men who have already shown on the cinder oval are V. H. Hodge, quarterback; D. Bracy, fullback; Walker Brann, Francis Hry and Ralph Kurz.

Joseph A. Faurot, Bertillon Expert, Resigns in New York.
NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Joseph A. Faurot, who played a prominent part in the development of the American system of criminal identification, has finished his services in the Police Department. Faurot, appointed in 1906, resigned as third deputy commissioner, but will be retained on the rolls pending settlement of his pension.
In 1905 he became interested in the Bertillon system of finger-print identification and was sent abroad to study it. On his return he formulated much of the system now used by American police.

Young Hero Breaks Into Dead Run

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 3.
—Probably his pals call him "Ginger" or "Red" or "Brick"; his mother may call him Thomas or Richard or Henry—but Mr. and Mrs. Courtney of Rochester, Pa., call him blessed.
He sat yesterday on the end of yachtsman's wharf at the entrance to the inlet near here—a freckled, barefoot 12-year-old in cotton shirt and overalls, his ruddy tath innocent of any covering, his bright eyes fixed intently on the top of a gangling, makeshift fish pole that now and then dipped promisingly into the swift tide rip below. Beside, of course, dozed his dog—just the tawny, canine nondescript he should have been.
Across the pier, their nosy antics bringing an occasional frown of disapproval to the earnest young fisherman's speckled face, the Courtney children—Martha, 4, and Jane, —rumped and tumbled in careless glee. Then, suddenly, the racket turned in two shrill shrieks and a double splash.
Borne rapidly by the strong current, two struggling little forms were swept beneath the long fish-pole just as another body hit the water near them. Reaching out to grasp the larger child by the hair the boy, an excellent swimmer, fought his way to her sister. Unable to spare a hand to the task of keeping Martha afloat, he set his teeth in the shoulder of her dress and hung on. Helpless to return against the current the rescuer and his charges drifted swift-

Two men in a row boat heard his cries, reached the trio in a few minutes and pulled them aboard.
When the boat landed on the beach the small crowd that had gathered joined Mr. and Mrs.
Courtney in devoting first attention to the little girls. Assured their children were unhurt the grateful parents turned to praise the youngster. Far down the beach rapidly retreating they saw a boy and a long fish pole and a dog. As they called he broke into a run and soon disappeared. None in the gathering knew who he was.

FIVE HELD FOR GIRL'S DEATH
By the Associated Press.
BEDFORD, Ia., Sept. 3.—Pansy
Turnbull, 17-year-old Diagonal, Ia., high school girl, was fatally injured when she jumped from an automobile to "protect her honor."
The coroner's jury, which investigated her death last Friday, declared in its verdict.
The sealed verdict turned over to the special Taylor County grand jury now investigating the case.
was made public following reports from the State university that traces of a drug had been found in the girl's stomach. Authorities previously had intimated they were working on the theory that Miss Turnbull had been drugged and had jumped from an automobile to escape an attack. The coroner's jury recommended that Hal Howard, Creston, Ia., and "this conspirator, Terrance Luton of St.
Joseph, Mo., be held to the grand jury without bond." Besides Howard and Luton, John Gibbons, Jack Howard, a brother of Hal, and John Beach, all of Creston, have been held without bond since Sunday on charges of murder.

Man Stabs Grandmother to Death.
By the Associated Press.
LONDON, O., Sept. 3.—A charge of first-degree murder has been filed here against Paul Weese, 21 years old, who stabbed to death Mrs. George Richards, 76, his grandmother, with whom he had lived for 20 years. Questioning of the youth as to his motive elicited the repeated statement that, "Oh, everybody told me to." Weese committed the crime during a sudden fit of insanity brought on by brooding over ill health, officials believe.

Sauces for Cold Meats

By Hannah Wing

A really good cook omits a sauce or gravy with hot meats, for it is nothing more than the tedious dish gravy from the roast-pan. But cold cuts often need a sauce even more than hot meats.

An excellent sauce to serve with cold fish of almost any kind is made as follows:

Whip half a cup of highly seasoned spice jelly or cold jellied mayonnaise or consomme until stiff and fluffy. Into this beat half a cup each of thick mayonnaise and heavy whipped cream. Beat steadily and add a few drops of green coloring matter, one tablespoon of bottled capers and half a tablespoon of minced stuffed olives. Season very delicately with a few drops of lemon juice.

For jellied veal, chicken, cold roast or cold roast beef or lamb try a chilled snappy sauce made tart with a little vinegar. Rub the hard-boiled yolk of an egg smoothly with a saltspoon of celery salt, a half teaspoon of French mustard, and salt and paprika to taste. Have ready half a pint of well soured cream, beaten solid; incorporate this with the other ingredients and add a tablespoon of grated horse-radish and a teaspoon of tarragon vinegar.

As an accessory to use with cold cuts a jellied relish which may be molded and cut in squares or served from small individual molds is excellent.

One-quarter package of gelatin, ¼ cup cold water, 1 slice mild onion, 2 green peppers or pimientos, 1 pint finely chopped cabbage, ¼ cup brown sugar, ¼ cup vinegar, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon celery seed and ½ teaspoon mustard seed.

Soften the gelatin in cold water and dissolve over boiling water. Chop all the vegetables very finely. Mix with the gelatin and seasonings and chill.

Graywing Gets His Way

REDDY trotted along down the beach with Graywing flying above and just ahead of him. He was on his way to see the Sea Horse Graywing had told him about. When he saw Graywing stop at a small tidepool, in which the water was not deep enough to cover the body of a horse had one been lying there, Reddy at once became suspicious. He suspected that Graywing was playing a joke of some kind. "Where's that horse?" he demanded.

The way Graywing's eyes twinkled! "Right down there in the water," said he.

Reddy didn't even look. He knew there wasn't any horse in any such small pool as that, and he intended to tell Graywing just what he thought of him. But Graywing didn't give him a chance.

"I'm glad you've come over here, Neighbor Fox," said Graywing, "because I am going to show you something which you never would have found for yourself. I told you that I would show you a Sea Horse, and I will. But a Sea Horse and a land horse are not at all alike. I know just what you are thinking. You are thinking that a horse of any kind must be a great big animal. That is where you are wrong. A Sea Horse is a very tiny fellow, but he's a Sea Horse just the same. Anyway, that's what he is called, and when you have looked at him, I think you'll understand why. Just as a favor to me, Neighbor Fox, come look down in this little pool."

"You never have seen a horse like this one," said Graywing.

Now, what could Reddy do? Graywing spoke so pleasantly, and was so polite, and seemed so very much in earnest, that Reddy could not very well refuse. So, rather ungraciously, he walked over where he could look down into the pool. "Look down on that piece of seaweed growing there," said Graywing, "and see what is hanging onto that seaweed by its tail."

Reddy looked. Then he blinked very hard, rubbed his eyes, and looked again. Slowly a good-natured grin spread over his face. He was looking at a curious little creature which was upright in the water, with the end of its tail curled around the stem of a seaweed, and which was only about three or four inches long. On its back was a fin. Because of that fin, Reddy suspected that it must be a real fish. But it didn't look like a fish. It most certainly did not. It had a head shaped like—well, when Reddy looked at it, he turned to Graywing and said at once, "I know why they call that a Sea Horse, and I don't wonder they do. His head is shaped like the head of a horse. It certainly is. I suppose he's a fish."

Graywing nodded. "Yes," said he, "he's a sure enough fish, but he is always called a Sea Horse. Watch him now!"

The funny little Sea Horse had let go of the seaweed with his tail and now he was swimming across the little pool, still upright in the water. He didn't appear to use his tail at all in swimming, but to swim with that back fin.

"We don't see Sea Horses up here very often, but farther south

ODE TO AL SOTHORON.
YOU know me, Al.
Shake hands old pal.
For you we all are rooting.
You are no kid
But down the skid
You sent the Pirates scotting.
Youth will be served,
(As we've observed)
In halting foe invasions;
But, mellowed age,
We have to page
On numerous occasions.

That Pirate crew
Has quite a few
Most wicked willow welders;
But couldn't hit
Your ball of spit
Except to waiting fielders.
You had the curve,
You had the nerve,
The muscle and the sinew;
You know me, Al.
Shake hands, old pal.
We knew you, had it in you!

TOO TRUE.
Yes, sir, youth will be served.
That's why they call on such fledglings as Al Sotheron. Grover Alexander and Joe Bush in a crucial series.

The Cards will not be seen at Sportsman's Park any more this year until the world series.

IN REBUTTAL.
Flat River, Mo., Aug. 23.—Just a few words to clear up the good name of Flat River Junior College football team.
When Coach Gaines sent forth his first call for football material, he only had three varsity men and one reserve man returning from last year's squad. Some of the newcomers were experienced football men, but, to many, the preliminary drill on fundamentals was a new experience. The team finished the season holding the local all-star team to a scoreless tie. Seven games were won, two lost and one tied. One hundred and 21 points were scored against opponents' 48. Anything wrong with that record? Maybe Newt Hicks from Bonne Terre, would like to offer a few suggestions on how not to play football. Or, perhaps he will bring his Turnip Squad over this year for a trimming.—Shelton Bryan.

Having presented both sides of the case we hereby declare a closed season on the Flat River football controversy.

PLAYS TO CONTINUE

Management of St. L.
Grand and Orpheum

tracts Have Been Bro-

The management of the Orpheum Circuit theaters in St. Louis—the Orpheum, Grand and Orpheum—have been notified that musicians, stagehands and operators will walk out after last night's performance in support of a general strike called yesterday by the International Theaters in the Orpheum
Circuit by the International Musicians' Protective Association.

It was learned that the Orpheum management has agreed to continue with nonunion employees beginning with tomorrow's performance.

In theatrical and union circles it is admitted that the Orpheum Circuit probably will be the forerunner of a showdown between large theatrical interests and international unions, as large theaters have concluded to resist demands for increased wages.

Disregard Contracts.
The local musicians' union has local stage hands' union entirely signed two-year contracts advanced wages, with the local Orpheum houses, but received notice from the international unions that these contracts are to be disregarded. The notice carried a clause forwarding notice in advance of a walk-out, but it was stated by the Orpheum management that only its own notice was given.

Thirty employees are involved in the strike at the Orpheum theater at St. Louis.
The general Orpheum strike called in sympathy with a strike of musicians in San Francisco, and later to the Keith vaudeville circuit, the Public Theaters association, a national chain of operas, the Missouri and American theaters in St. Louis, and possibly the Klaw & Waller houses. The Shubert theater, it is stated, have not received notice as to opposition to union demands.

Week for Theater Musicians.
BOSTON, Sept. 4.—Local theater musicians have won wage increases of approximately 15 per cent under terms of a new two-year contract with the Allied Theater Musicians' Association.
The agreement grants musicians a 15 per cent increase in base salary and picture house feature picture and legitimate theater, 14 performances, $5 week; burlesque, 12 performances, $4 week; musical shows, 16 performances, $4 a week.

Doolittle Flies Over Andes.
The Associated Press
BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 4.—Lt.
James H. Doolittle, American who walks on crutches, again crossed the Andes Mountains in a biplane. He arrived here yesterday afternoon from Santiago, Chile, on a nonstop flight of 650 miles, which took over the mountains at a high altitude. The time of his flight was 7 1/2 hours.
Doolittle, who some time ago both his ankles in a fall from a plane, recently flew from San Francisco to La Paz, Bolivia, and back to an altitude of about 10,000 feet. He carries crutches and a cane to aid him when he is flying.
